Wanted, according to Chief of Detectives A. Lamar Poole, for the murder of two young waitresses in a speakeasy in Schenectady, N. Y., who were shot to death October 16, a young Italian giving his name as Frank Joseph Maceralo, alias Frank Mace, was arrested in front of a downtown moving picture theater Wednesday night and held on a charge of murder.

When taken in custody by detectives, Chief Poole said, Maceralo was selling papers on Peachtree street near Harris. According to the head of the local detective bureau, Maceralo made a full confession of his knowledge of the killings, but insisted the two waitresses were killed during a struggle between himself and the speakeasy proprietor for possession of a pistol.

The story told officers by the young Italian, who is 21 years of age, was to a certain extent rambling in detail, and pending arrival here of detectives from New York, local authorities refrained from comment.

Admittedly in Speakeasy.
He admitted that he was in the speakeasy on the night the two young women were shot to death, but insisted that he was there in the capacity of doorman, or "bouncer." He said that a girl friend was a guest of the cafe and that the altercation started when the proprietor, whom he remembered only as John Mastrianni, "tried to get tough" with her. He said he had been sitting at a table with Mastrianni and the "girl friend," and that "a little party" was under way.

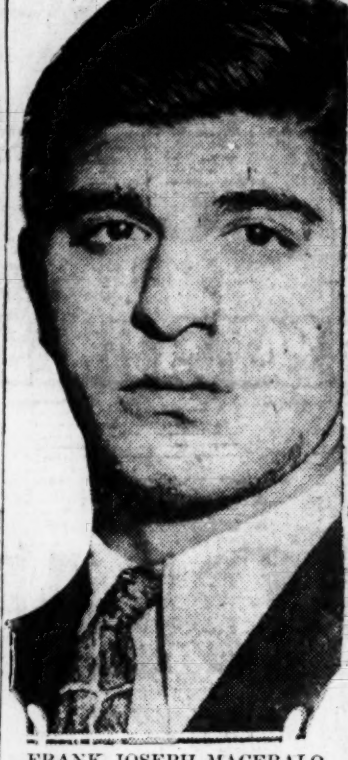

"Mastrianni got sore," he said, "because I wouldn't drink. Then he got tough with my girl, and I told him to lay off, see? We got to arguing and Mastrianni pulled a gun."

Maceralo said he did not know the two young women who were slain. He said that after the shooting he had "cried over them," but that he left Schenectady soon afterward, with the intention of surrendering "when it blew over."

His reasons for coming to Atlanta savored of a romance with an Atlanta girl whom he had never known prior to his arrival in the city, but with whom he had communicated after an introduction by mail from a former "buddy" in the navy.

He said that he and the Atlanta girl—who is said to be a nurse at

DETAILS OF CALL CONCERN LEADERS

Many Leaders Reiterate
Objection to Inclusion of Reorganization Plan.

Apprehension over the subject matter Governor Hardman will incorporate in his proclamation calling the legislature to meet in special session January 6 reignited over the state capital Wednesday.

Much of it was manifest in a strong recurrence of objections raised to the reorganization plan worked out for the governor by Searle, Miller & Co., of New York, and which, along with the Dr. Harley Lutz tax report, which advocated a special session, cost the Georgia Tax Revision Association $17,000.

The specific reference by the governor, in the Tuesday statement formally disclosing his special session views, to the cost of the two reports was accepted by many political observers as an indication that he expected to ask the special session to tackle reorganization along with the financial problem and the relation of the Lutz recommendations to the state debt.

On the other hand, there was manifest among legislators calling at the capitol and among state officials interested in little concern lest the governor open up a Pandora's box of confusion in response to the requests pouring in on him to include this and that matter in the call.

The matter of paying Confederate veterans $30 per month, instead of the $50 per quarter they are now receiving, which the legislature of 1929 authorized, will be disposed of in the "unpaid appropriations" phase of the call. A special request that it be included was made by R. de T. Lawrence, state pension commissioner, Wednesday.

Property owners along Peachtree creek, according to a report current in the long capital corridors, have asked Governor Hardman to include in the call a local measure to create a new district of Atlanta with power to issue bonds for the construction of sewers outside the city limits. Similar requests for local legislation are anticipated from most of the municipalities in the state.

PART OF ITALIAN AIR FLEET GAINS FIRST OBJECTIVE

Eight of Fourteen Big Sea-

Land on Island.

CARTHAGENA, Spain, Dec. 17. (AP)—Scattered by adverse winds and weather, a squadron of Italian seaplanes which took off this morning from Orbetello, Italy, on the first lap of a projected flight to South America was in two sections tonight.

Eight of the ships came down here, while the other six, including that piloted by Air Minister Italo Balbo, and two others which are replacement units going as far as Bolinas, descended at Iviza, an island of the Balearic group. General Balbo radioed word to Carthage that he and his comrades were safe.

Pending lifting weather, General Balbo's group will join their companions here before resuming the flight, whose next lap is to Kunisra, Morocco.

Squalls blew lustily here tonight, and although it was announced the flight would be resumed tomorrow morning, this will be impossible unless the weather subsides.

Separated from their brother fliers in the 750-mile hop over the Mediterranean, the crews of the eight other machines flew on to Alcazar airport here. They were welcomed by air officers and dined while awaiting word of General Balbo and the other four ships.

From Kunisra the flight is planned to proceed by way of Villa de Visneros, Rio de Oro, to Bolama, Portuguese Guinea, where the long hop to Port Natal, Brazil, 3,875 miles over water, is to begin.

From Port Natal to Bahia is 625 miles and from Bahia to Rio de Janeiro, the final destination, is another 844.

Prompt Completion of Road System To Aid Employment Is Pledged by Barnett at Opening of Link to Columbus

Board To Scatter Road Projects So That Many Sections of State Will Be Benefited.

BY L. A. FARRELL,
Constitution Staff Correspondent.

COLUMBUS, Ga., Dec. 17.—Pledging his board to complete as soon as possible the state highway system and to make immediate use of every available state and federal dollar for the employment of skilled and unskilled labor in the construction of roads, Captain J. W. Barnett, chairman of the Georgia highway commission, today promised the people of this section that the government of the commonwealth was not overlooking its distressed sections and would do everything possible to increase prosperity throughout the state.

Speaking at a monster celebration here in commemoration of the formal opening of the new all-paved highway between Columbus and Atlanta via Greenville, the highway commission chairman asserted that the state government felt that by widely scattering its immediate road projects, financial assistance would be rendered to each of the several sections of the state and, in time, much to relieve the general retarded business and economic situation would be accomplished.

"The state and federal government has thousands of dollars worth of highways under construction in Georgia and hundreds of thousands of dollars worth projected or contracted for," Captain Barnett declared. "When this is left over our state there will be cause for dual rejoicing, for we will have the roads we have so long needed and which are so necessary to our progress and we will have thousands of men employed and providing for those who are in need."

Captain Barnett stated that the completion of the Atlanta-Columbus highway, which was opened formally at an impressive ceremony at the Harris Muscogee county line this morning, was but the beginning of the state's great chain of highways which, within a few years, will place Georgia on a par with any of her sister states in so far as highways are concerned.

"There are a great many persons who feel that the highway department should start on one road and complete it before beginning another," the board chairman asserted. "We believe this to be the wrong policy. We believe that by spreading our projects over the length and breadth of the state the money spent thereon will where it is needed most and each section of the state will advance with the other in the improvement of its highways."

2,000 Attend Ceremony.
Captain Barnett's address was warmly applauded by some 2,000 persons who braved sub-freezing weather to take part in the commemoration, which was held at the Chattahoochee Valley Association fair grounds. When he remarked that the increased highway construction was certain to add to employment, he was hailed by cheering and hand-clapping.

The opening of the new road to Atlanta and connecting link with counties immediately north and northeast of Muscogee was hailed on all sides by officials of Muscogee county. Muscogees were represented in the crowd at the ceremony, in addition to a number of persons from Atlanta. OPINION DIVIDED ON CASE'S MERITS

Drys Claim Ruling Abso-

Some Hope.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(AP)—The department of justice acted quickly today to block the latest threat of its prohibition machinery, announcing an "immediate appeal" would be taken directly to the supreme court from the New Jersey decision which held the eighteenth amendment invalid.

Simultaneously an aroused federal prohibition director telegraphed a command to his New Jersey forces to "carry on," while two brother justices there of Federal Judge Clark, author of yesterday's decision, were refusing to follow the striking precedent set by him. A third New Jersey district judge remained silent.

Federal prohibition chiefs lost little time in gathering in a council of war at the justice department. United States Attorney Philip Forman, summoned from Newark, met for more than two hours with Attorney-General Mitchell, Assistant Attorney-General Youngquist, in charge of prohibition, and Edward J. Jones, assistant prohibition director, before the decision to appeal was announced.

Forman was directed to return to New Jersey to prepare the machinery for such action, thus holding Clark's decision in status quo until it comes before the highest tribunal.

The justice department at the same time announced that "at the proper time the supreme court will be requested to set the case down for an early argument."

"The appeal," the department said, "will be taken direct to the supreme court of the United States under a statute which authorizes such an appeal from a decision quashing an indictment on the ground of the invalidity of the statute upon which it is founded."

Prohibition Director Woodcock, although not present at the conference, made clear he did not intend there should be a breakdown in enforcement of the national prohibition act in New Jersey, despite the decision. In a telegram to Louis J. Tutt, deputy prohibition administrator at Newark, he said:

"Do not be discouraged by Judge Clark's decision. Carry on!" Nevertheless, relief was expressed by federal officials at the news that not only had two of the New Jersey district judges refused to be bound by the decision declaring the eighteenth amendment invalid, but that two United States commissioners there had been ordered to continue their hearings on prohibition cases, despite the ruling.

At Newark, Federal Judge William Runyon, hearing the first liquor case that could have been affected, said, "My conception is that the eighteenth amendment has been passed on by the supreme court and is binding on all cases of lesser jurisdiction."

Federal Judge John B. Avis, at Camden, at the same time denied a motion to dismiss a padlock proceeding, saying "I cannot agree that this decision is binding on all of the other United States court judges."

Meanwhile, the point raised by Judge Clark, that the amendment was invalid because it had not been ratified by constitutional conventions rather than by state legislatures, continued to arouse lively interest on Capitol Hill.

Some senators and representatives agreed with the contention raised yesterday by Anti-Saloon League lawyers that this point had been brought before the supreme court by Elihu Root in 1920, and had been decided upon adversely. Others expressed hope that Clark's decision would provide a fresh

Snow Covering Fails To Hide Need of 'Ten Opportunities'

Opportunity No. 8

Tragedy's icy claws clutched at the Denton family seven years ago.

Since then, its teammate, poverty, has hovered over Mrs. Denton and her boy and girl with a jealous persistence.

Mrs. Denton was killed while at work on a building. Five years later, Mrs. Denton's compensation of $10 a week stopped. With the delicate mother bedridden, an invalid from the shock of her husband's death and the extra burden put upon her, the family faces disaster.

All the Dentons have is a tiny home provided by the father when he was alive. There is no income, except a small amount given by a church supplemented by the welfare society's inadequate budget. Needs of the two growing children are great. Sufficient food, comfortable clothing and sick-room necessities and comforts are lacking. The mother's condition is aggravated by the financial worry.

Twenty-five dollars a month, or $300 for the year, will ease the burden of this poor family. Promise of aid for next year will be a wonderful Christmas present for this widow and her jewels, ages 13 and 15. Will you provide the amount needed, or a part of it? This is your Opportunity No. 8. Do you accept it?

CAMPBELL-FULTON MERGER IS PUSHED

BY BEN COOPER.

Atlanta lies "neath a blanket of dazzling white; ugly spots become magic castles of ice—and Christmas is one week away!"

Under the snowy covering there is tragedy—paths leading nature cannot conceal with its weather wand—suffering made three-fold and worse by forces that beautify the landscape. Bitter cold penetrates dingy little hovels. Four of Atlanta's poorest families face the future with courage, given new life by the happy thought of a 1931 free from privation and want. Six others shiver and shake and starve, holding out life solely by the hope that they, too, will not be forgotten by their more fortunate brethren on the morning of mornings a week from today.

To these six families Christmas will be just another bleak day without hope, the end close in sight, unless Atlanta loosens its purse strings and gives cheerfully in the real spirit of the holidays.

Pitiful circumstances of the Lee family, Opportunity No. 7, Wednesday moved a young businessman to pledge $300 for its support. And that isn't all! He is to see the family with the Welfare Society worker and provide such a Christmas as it has never had before. During the year, milk and fruits will supplement the diet of the children, and medical aid, good food, warmth and better housing conditions will start the family on the road to recovery. The young businessman is interested, and will personally aid rehabilitation of the mother, father and three little children.

Little Annie and her aged grandmother found a benefactor Wednesday. An Atlanta woman, noted for her charitable deeds, Wednesday directed that her $25 check of a few days be applied to Opportunity No. 2. In addition, she gave a check for $215 more to make up the sum needed for protection of Annie and grandmother from privation and suffering in 1931.

Another Atlanta woman offered to provide a real Christmas for an Opportunity family. She will make somebody happy with a basket of food and toys and all the things that go with Santa Claus' visit.

A public official who requested that his name be withheld Wednesday said he will indorse his next pay check, $200, over to the Ten Opportunities

GEORGIA LEADS ON TAX SHOWING

Ahead of Neighbors in Proportion of Federal Taxes and in Comparison With Past.

Georgia led six neighboring southern states in its proportion of taxes paid to the federal government for the fiscal year ending June 30, last, and its decrease in both income taxes and other revenue collections of the federal government was smaller than any of the six states for the year.

Figures for the states of Georgia, Alabama, Florida, South Carolina, Mississippi and Louisiana, four of which are embraced in the sixth federal reserve district, are contained in the annual report of the commissioner of revenue just received here.

The percentage of the total federal tax paid by the six states were:

Georgia	55
Florida	42
Alabama	40
South Carolina	24
Mississippi	19
Louisiana	17

Relative decreases in income tax for the period ending June 30, 1930, as compared with the same period in 1929, by percentages, were:

Georgia	10
Alabama	12
Florida	12
South Carolina	14
Louisiana	19
Mississippi	20

The relative decrease in revenue collections, other than income taxes, was, by percentages:

Georgia	11
Alabama	12
Florida	12
South Carolina	17
Louisiana	19
Mississippi	22

When Your Cough Hangs On, Mix This at Home

The best cough remedy that money could buy, can easily be mixed at home. It saves money and gives you the most reliable, quick-acting medicine you ever used. The way it takes hold of stubborn coughs and chest colds, giving immediate relief, is astonishing.

Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and fill up with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. It's no trouble at all to mix, and when you once use it, you will never be without it. Keeps perfectly and tastes good—children really like it.

It is surprising how quickly this loosens the germ-laden phlegm and soothes and heals the inflamed membranes. At the same time, part of the medicine is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes, and helps the system throw off the whole trouble. Even those severe coughs which follow cold epidemics, are promptly ended.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more helpful in cases of severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

MOST POPULAR MEDICINE
It has not been so very long ago when aspirin was known only to a few physicians. Today, however, aspirin is the most popular and most widely used of all medicines. It is generally known in medical circles that the manufacturers of St. Joseph's Pure Aspirin guarantee that it is as pure as money can buy and that it conforms to every government specification. It has gained such a full measure of public confidence that St. Joseph's Pure Aspirin is the largest selling aspirin in the world for ten cents. Thousands of people have learned that it is unnecessary to pay more than ten cents for one dozen five grain tablets of pure aspirin. St. Joseph's Pure Aspirin is sold everywhere in convenient tins of one dozen five grain tablets for ten cents. There is no reason to pay more.

Arrest Here of Six as Bank Bandits Starts Three-Cornered Race for Justice

Acting on information received from sources he refused to reveal, Lieutenant T. O. Sturdivant, of the detective department, and other plainclothes officers Tuesday night obtained access to the rooms in a downtown hotel occupied by four men and a woman, whom they arrested as suspects in the recent hold-up of a Birmingham bank. Left to right, the picture above shows Lieutenant Sturdivant, J. W. Scafe, L. A. Coggins, H. E. Evans and Detective F. C. Foster. Staff photo by Bill Mason.

A three-cornered race for justice, with detectives from Birmingham and Atlanta pitting their combined forces against those of legal technicalities, Wednesday developed as the result of the arrest here Tuesday night of four men and a woman as suspects in the holdup of a bank in the Alabama city two weeks ago.

Habeas corpus proceedings were instituted Wednesday afternoon in behalf of one of the men held, three Birmingham detectives arrived in Atlanta to seek extradition of the prisoners, and Lieutenant T. O. Sturdivant and detectives who assisted him in capturing the five suspects, returned from Tallapoosa, Ga., where they arrested Jack K. Lee, 24, who gave his address as 102 West Harris street.

They held him in connection with the robbery, on a charge of suspicion. Lee refused to make a statement other than to deny all knowledge of the holdup.

Sturdivant said he and his men were preparing to go to West Point to search for a fifth man believed to have been a member of the gang captured, but that they received information that the man arrested as Lee was in Tallapoosa, and went there instead.

Eldon Haldane, local attorney, obtained a court order from Superior Court Judge E. D. Thomas Wednesday commanding Chief of Police James L. Beavers to produce L. A. Coggins, one of the suspects, in court Friday morning at 9:30 and show cause why the prisoner should not be allowed bond. The court order automatically tied the hands of those seeking extradition, it was said, and provided some glimmer of hope for the suspected man's attorney of obtaining his release temporarily, at least.

Others being held, for whom no attorney yet has acted, gave their names as H. E. Evans, 21; J. W. Scafe, 26; F. L. Fletcher, 25, and Fletcher's wife, 22. All gave local addresses.

In addition to the five prisoners, the local detectives seized two revolvers, a derringer, a sawed-off shotgun and several hatchets.

Eldon Haldane, local attorney, obtained a court order from Superior Court Judge E. D. Thomas Wednesday commanding Chief of Police James L. Beavers to produce L. A. Coggins, one of the suspects, in court Friday morning at 9:30 and show cause why the prisoner should not be allowed bond. The court order automatically tied the hands of those seeking extradition, it was said, and provided some glimmer of hope for the suspected man's attorney of obtaining his release temporarily, at least.

INCREASE SOUGHT IN MAYOR'S PAY

Alderman J. Frank Beck To Offer Paper Asking Hike to $7,500.

When Mayor James L. Key assumes the reins of office January 5, he will be the highest paid chief executive Atlanta has ever had, it is estimated at its session on the afternoon of that date passes a resolution to be offered by Alderman J. Frank Beck, of the eighth ward.

Mr. Beck Wednesday afternoon announced he would offer the paper, providing for increasing the mayor's salary from $6,000 to $7,500 annually after a conference with Mayor L. N. Ragsdale, in which the latter declared he will approve the paper as soon as council and the aldermanic board sanction it.

Several days ago, Mr. Ragsdale stated he believed the salary of the mayor should be increased to $7,500 a year, so "that it will be in keeping with the large responsibilities of the mayor and in line with the dignity of the position."

Council passed a resolution nearly four years ago raising the salary of Mayor Ragsdale to the $7,500 figure but he would not accept it.

JURY HEARS VALUATION OF FIBRE COMPANY LAND
SEVIERVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 17.—(AP)—A certified copy of a report submitted the state commissioner of finance and taxation by the Champion Fibre Company, in which it placed a valuation of $274,850 on 37,500 acres it owns in the Great Smoky Mountains National park area, was placed in evidence here today.

A jury of view is hearing testimony on the value of the property sought by Tennessee for the national park.

'ANGEL OF FRANCE' ON WEDDING TRIP

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Mrs. Kathleen Burke McLean, wartime "Angel of France," and Gianni Van Barkaloo Hale, noted mural painter, were en route today to Morocco on a wedding trip.

They were married here yesterday by Superior Court Judge William Collier and announced they would be married in a Catholic church ceremony in either Paris or Rome en route to Morocco.

The friendship between the British war nurse and Hale, then an ambulance driver, began at the Soissons front during a bombardment. Both were decorated for bravery in action.

Mrs. Hale twice was widowed. She is 42.

Hale is a descendant of Stephen Girard, early American financier. He is 44.

WMC GIVEN RIGHT TO RENEW OPERATION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Reversing its decision of yesterday, the federal radio commission today granted receivers of station WMC, of Memphis, Tenn., permission to operate the station temporarily until January 31.

The authority was granted to Paul Dillard and Enoch Brown, Jr., receivers for the Memphis Commercial Appeal, which operates the broadcasting station.

SORE THROAT EPIDEMIC GRIPS CANADIAN TOWN

TORONTO, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Three hundred residents of the town of Kirkland Lake are receiving medical attention for septic sore throat. There have been five deaths.

In a message received by Dr. J. M. Robb, minister of health, from his deputy minister, Dr. W. J. Bell, who is now at Kirkland Lake, it was stated that the disease had been traced directly to two workmen employed by one of the dairies.

METHODIST LEADERS DISCUSS COLLECTIONS

$6,000,000 Voted for Benevolences in 1931 Chief Topic of Bishops.

Leading bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, outlined means of raising and collecting the approximately $6,000,000 voted for benevolence during the coming year, at a general convocation of high churchmen and lay leaders of the denomination held Wednesday at the First Methodist church.

The fund to be collected was authorized at the recent general Methodist conference at Dallas, and the meeting held in Atlanta was to formulate some definite plan of combining both the appropriation quota and the free-will offering goal in an effort to prosecute the campaign to a successful termination.

A special meeting of the leading bishops of the southern church with pastors and lay representatives of their respective jurisdictions was dispensed with during the evening, explanations being made that all prelates having made necessary contacts during the afternoon.

Dr. F. E. Onderdonk, of San Antonio, Texas, who for more than 20 years has been intimately connected with Methodist mission work in Mexico, delivered the inspirational address during the evening. Dr. Onderdonk made a stirring appeal to ministers present for support of the foreign mission work of the southern church, and asserted that the history of the denomination's activities in Mexico, Brazil, Korea, Japan and other foreign fields has clearly revealed the value of such work. He urged that pastors give individually out of their salaries as far as is consistent with their personal needs, and made a plea for a greater spirit of self-sacrifice among the southern Methodist clergy.

Among those who spoke during the day's sessions were Bishops E. D. Moulton, of Louisville; Bishop U. V. W. Darlington, whose episcopal area includes areas in Europe; Bishop W. Candler, Atlanta; Bishop W. F. McMurry, of Louisville; and Bishop W. B. Beauchamp, of Richmond.

Bishop Moulton paid high tribute to the effect of junior colleges and denominational secondary schools on the culture of civilization from a viewpoint of Christianity, declaring that learning and spiritual attainment come largely from the lesser institutions rather than from richly endowed universities and senior colleges. He made an appeal for church-wide support of educational projects in South America, from which country he recently returned after taking a prominent part in the establishment of the Brazilian church.

In his talk Bishop Candler vigorously assigned the lethargy and apathy of Protestant churches in the matter of supporting benevolent movements. The Atlanta leader declared that a majority of the 12 Methodist hospitals were built with money subscribed by a few individuals. He insisted that the need is for a more widespread interest in church aims regarding charity.

Others who delivered brief talks during the session were Bishops Frank Suter, St. Louis; John M. Moore, Atlanta; H. A. Boaz, Dallas; G. L. Morelock, Nashville; and W. N. Ainsworth, Nashville. Dr. E. H. Rawlings, Nashville; Dr. Ed F. Cook, Macon; and J. F. Rawls also delivered short talks.

The sessions were presided over by Dr. T. D. Ellis, of Louisville.

31-Pound Marauding Bobcat Slain On Farm 12 Miles From Atlanta

Harrassed for the last few weeks by the raids of a pair of huge bobcats, residents of the Sweetwater camp district, about 12 miles west of Atlanta, Wednesday took advantage of the evening blanket of snow to stage a punitive expedition into the fastnesses of that section.

Result: One 31-pound bobcat was shot and instantly killed, while its mate, fighting off a pack of hounds, made its escape. The feline was the largest cat slain in this part of Georgia in many years, it was said, and its forays among the chicken roosts of Sweetwater Camp had taken a large toll of fowls. The populace rose in arms, however, only after the animal had devoured five young setter puppies on the Cochran plantation last week.

With the suspicious advent of snow Wednesday L. L. Cochran, his three brothers, J. C., W. E. and H. A. Cochran, accompanied by J. R. Watkins, a neighbor, armed with shotguns loaded

Duel Challenge Stirs Rumanian Capital City

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Bucharest society is excited over a challenge to a duel sent by M. Filipescu, president of the American Telephone Company, to Herr Mutius, German minister here. The challenge is the outgrowth of a letter allegedly sent by Herr Mutius to a newspaperman in which he belittles Premier Mironescu and ridicules Prince Barmu Sturber for his opposition to Prince Carol's return to Bucharest.

M. Filipescu has had a facsimile of the letter published. He wishes to have the German minister recalled.

with buckshot, set out to trail the cats to their lair. They soon found the scent and after a chase of three miles the dogs held one of the cats at bay.

The brothers Cochran and Watkins took pot shots almost simultaneously and the biggest of the cats was shot. In the meantime, however, its mate had taken to the thick undergrowth, and, for the nonce, escaped.

Messrs. Cochran announced Wednesday night that it is their aim to have the bobcat stuffed and mounted, and, in the meantime, if the snow holds out, to resume their search for the mate.

AGREEMENT NEAR ON SHOALS ISSUE

Compromise Expected Today by Senate and House Conferees on Plant Use.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(AP)—An early agreement to break the long standing deadlock between house and senate over operation of the government's $150,000,000 plant at Muscle Shoals was forecast by conferees from both houses today after another long conference session.

Conference members said a majority of the conferees from each house are now ready to reach a compromise which may settle the dispute that has baffled congress for 10 years.

The proposed compromise would provide for government operation of the power plant and distribution of the power over government-built transmission lines; private operation of the nitrate plant, and construction by the government of Cove Creek dam. The conferees will meet again tomorrow in an attempt to work out details of the compromise and reach a formal agreement.

Three of the five house conferees were said today to have agreed to give in to the senate on the major point of controversy, government transmission lines. Other major differences also have been settled, members of the conference group said.

Negotiations today chiefly dealt with what should be manufactured by the nitrate plant, which it is proposed to lease for private operation. The senators insisted only fertilizer and its ingredients should be produced, while the house members held out for making other electro-chemical products unrelated to fertilizer.

Lewis Nobel Award Is Styled "Tragedy"

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Dr. R. L. Lyman, of the University of Chicago and president of the National Council of English Teachers, told teachers attending an institute meeting here today "it was one of the tragedies of the last few months that the Nobel prize for literature was given to Sinclair Lewis.

Dr. Lyman decried the award because Lewis was "a portrayal of life's ugliness."

"Truth that is clean and wholesome and uplifting is the ideal of true literature," Dr. Lyman said. "Those who put beauty in the foreground are artists, not the Sinclair Lewises, who put ugliness there."

THREE ROBBERS SLAIN IN CHICAGO WEDNESDAY

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Three robbers were killed tonight—one of them in the busy Loop district—during holdups in widely separated sections of the city. Two were slain by their intended victims and the other by a policeman.

First to be shot down was a man identified as Henry Escalona, 20, while covering Richard Seibold, during a holdup of Escalona's north side butcher shop. Escalona's attention was attracted to a window trimmer at work. He turned momentarily and Seibold seized a gun, shooting Escalona fatally. A companion of the slain robber fled.

The second robber was one of a quintet which held up a soft drink parlor on the south side. He was killed in the course of a melee with a patron and Joseph Novotny, 20, son of the proprietor.

Policeman Michael J. Neery accounted for the third, shooting down an unidentified man who tried to rob a Loop clothing store.

REV. J. D. JACKSON DIES IN LEXINGTON

LEXINGTON, Ga., Dec. 17.—The Rev. J. D. Jackson, pastor of the A. M. E. church here, died today after a brief illness. Funeral services and interment will take place in Athens Thursday, with the Rev. J. T. Wilkinson officiating.

U. S. TURNS DOWN CHATTANOOGA SITE

Georgia Property Declined by Government for New Postoffice.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Treasury department officials announced today that the property owned by the state of Georgia in Chattanooga, Tenn., has been rejected as a site for the new federal building there. The property, which is a part of the holdings of the state-owned Western & Atlantic railway, is located near the station in the heart of the city and is under a lease held by Lee & Caldwell, of Chattanooga.

In rejecting the state-owned site department officials found that the price asked was excessive and decided to locate the new government building on a lot bounded by Georgia avenue, Ninth and Tenth streets, owned by the Davenport-Howell-Patton-Wilcox-Johnson interests.

It is understood that the present leaseholders of the Georgia-owned tract first demanded $800,000 for the property, but later agreed to accept approximately $500,000. The lot accepted was obtained at a lower figure than the latter.

Another consideration which entered into the decision of the department to reject the Georgia property was the necessity for instituting condemnation proceedings to obtain title. Because of the existing lease it could not have been sold without perfecting title to legal action.

ICY STREETS BLAMED FOR TWO ACCIDENTS

Two automobile accidents, in one of which a pedestrian received severe injuries, were ascribed to ice-blanketed pavements Wednesday night.

Mrs. Mary McGhee, of 411 Hood street, was treated at Grady hospital for lacerations about the head received early Wednesday night when a taxi cab driven by H. H. Jones struck her at Peters and McDaniel streets. Mrs. McGhee later was transferred to a private hospital. Charges of reckless driving and speeding were lodged against Jones, according to police reports.

In a collision between a car driven by Dr. F. J. Guilfrida, of 733 Washington street, and another car driven by C. O. Weems, of 417 Florida avenue, Mrs. Guilfrida and Weems received minor injuries, according to police reports.

Two Negroes Jailed.

Two negroes who confessed to robbing a box car in Inman Yard, of shoes and other articles, and a grocery at Cartersville, according to police, were arrested Wednesday night by Detectives Y. T. Allen and D. T. Barge in an alley off Pryor street near Rawson avenue. The negroes, who gave their names as Robert Willis and Alf Jones, were held on a technical charge of suspicion.

DEATH OF ROY COOPER IS DECLARED SUICIDE

"Self-Inflicted Gunshot Wound" Is Verdict of Coroner's Jury.

"A self-inflicted gunshot wound" caused the death of Roy L. Cooper, 40, Atlanta manager of the Postorin Pressed Steel Corporation, who was found dead with a rifle bullet through his chest Wednesday morning at his home, 1195 Clifton road, according to the verdict of a DeKalb county coroner's jury after an inquest held Wednesday afternoon, at the establishment of H. M. Patterson & Son. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Fully dressed, the body of Mr. Cooper was found at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning by a negro maid, a rifle lying nearby. He had been dead about three hours.

Mr. Cooper, who was formerly of Detroit, came to Atlanta as branch manager of the Postorin company about seven years ago. Business associates said he had been in good health and apparently in good spirits, and relatives could assign no motive for his act.

He is survived by his widow, a 13-year-old daughter, Ruth Marion Cooper; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Cooper, of Flint, Mich.; two brothers, Kenneth C. of Detroit, and W. L. Cooper, of Springfield, Ohio; and three sisters, Mrs. E. A. Smith, of Toronto, Canada; Mrs. G. P. Roof, and Miss Helen Cooper, both of Flint.

BANK STOCKHOLDERS TO GET HALF MILLION

Distribution of Dividends Announced by Financial Institutions Here.

Stockholders in three leading banking institutions of Atlanta will receive approximately $500,000 in dividends as a Christmas gift, and stockholders in smaller houses will share proportionately. It was indicated upon declaration of regular quarterly dividends by various banks in the city.

The First National bank has declared the usual 5 per cent quarterly dividend on a capital stock of $3,000,000, bringing to stockholders a total of $270,000, payable January 1. This amount will be paid to stockholders of record December 20.

A quarterly dividend of 4 per cent on capital stock of $5,000,000 has been declared by the Citizens & Southern bank, this amount totaling $200,000, to be payable December 23 to stockholders of record December 17.

The Fulton National bank has declared its quarterly dividend of $175 a share on a capital stock of $1,000,000, adding $17,500 to the Christmas funds of its stockholders. The dividend is payable January 2 to stockholders of record December 31.

Directors of the Decatur Building & Loan Association Tuesday night declared a 7 per cent dividend, amounting to approximately $11,000, this being the second annual dividend since the company was organized about three years ago. C. A. Matthews, prominent Decatur businessman, is president of the association.

Sewer Yields Coin Chain, Given to Donaldson

Clarke Donaldson, chief of construction, Wednesday afternoon was the recipient of a unique presentation—a chain of coins collected from Atlanta sewers.

For the past several months the sewer department has been engaged in repairing several of the larger trunk sewers. The coins were washed into the sewers by storm waters and settled into pockets. When these were repaired and straightened out, the coins were collected.

TRACKED IN SNOW, NEGRO ARRESTED

Footprints in the snow early Wednesday morning enabled Patrolmen Roper and Sexton to track Lee James, a negro, to a shack in the rear of the Peachtree station after he had burglarized the lunch room of W. R. Story, at 1506 Spring street, according to the officers. A small amount of merchandise was found on the premises, and identified as stolen from the lunch room, the officers said. The negro was arrested.

The dividend is payable January 2 to stockholders of record December 31. Directors of the Decatur Building & Loan Association Tuesday night declared a 7 per cent dividend, amounting to approximately $11,000, this being the second annual dividend since the company was organized about three years ago. C. A. Matthews, prominent Decatur businessman, is president of the association.

CENSORSHIP IN CUBA DENIED BY MACHADO

President of Island Republic Says Stories of Accredited Reporters Untouched.

HAVANA, Dec. 17.—(P)—President Machado, in a statement cabled to the Associated Press today, said that he was perfectly willing to have the American people know all the facts of the situation in Cuba.

The president stated that "not a single line or word outgoing or incoming of the Associated Press or of any other recognized press association or of any accredited correspondent of any American newspaper has been withheld or censored in any way."

Commenting on dispatches carried by the Associated Press on December 11 and 12, the Cuban president denied that the suspension of guarantees was tantamount to martial law, declaring that at best this was a careless statement.

"No civilians are being tried by military courts," he said, "and the civil courts are carrying on their normal functions." Referring to rumors mentioned as such in the dispatch which included the statement that all had been denied, the president said:

"The cabinet meeting was not a secret meeting. The American ambassador did not attend this meeting. The president did not place his resignation in the hands of the supreme court. The American ambassador had not summoned cruisers from Guantanamo."

The president also denied statements that all news communications thought to exaggerate the picture of

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—(P)—A mountain peak was among the bequests of the late Rev. William E. Barton, noted authority on Abraham Lincoln and father of Bruce Barton, the writer.

It was given to Berea College, of Berea, Ky., and will be a portion of the college's forest preserves. It is to be known as "Barton Pinnacle," according to his will filed yesterday for probate.

HODGSON PUPILS GIVE MUSICALS

Those taking part in the program were Miss Elizabeth Orr, Miss Elizabeth Sheldon, Miss Chloe Meadows, Miss Mozelle Horton, Frank Mitchell, Miss Beulah Shirley, Miss Irene Leitch, and Miss MacDowell.

political unrest in Cuba were withheld from the outside world and that all incoming news which dealt with revolutionary activities in other parts of the world was held up by the censorship.

The president concluded that a time when every government in the world is confronted with difficult problems in the maintenance of public order due to unrest brought about largely by economic conditions, he felt sure that it was desirable that the above facts be known.

GARNER PLANS TO CALL DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS

Texas Says Party Should Control Next House in Congress.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(P)—Representative Garner, of Texas, the minority leader, announced today he would call the democratic members of the seventy-second congress to a caucus in Washington about March 1 to formulate the organization of the next house.

He said that in the past republicans had done this when their majority was certain and that since he believed the democrats would organize the next house, he would issue the call for the meeting.

This is the first indication since the November elections that the democrats would make a pronounced effort to control the next house.

For the next congress, the republicans have 218 house seats, the democrats 216 and the farmer-labor 1, and control of the branch will be in dispute until the next congress convenes.

EMPLOYMENT AID IS PUT UNDER WAY

Commission Takes First Steps To Put Employers in Touch With Jobless.

First definite steps to offer work to the 12,000 unemployed Atlantans were taken Wednesday at a meeting of the executive committee of the Atlanta Better Business commission, when that body evolved a form through which prospective employers may reach suitable workers and reiterated a previous stand that it will attempt to procure employment only for Atlanta citizens.

Among other outstanding developments of the session were the following:

1. Decision to attempt to push work on the proposed new postoffice building at Spring and Hunter streets. Assistance of Senators William J. Harris and Walter F. George, of Georgia, has been offered in any way possible. The effort will be to have plans made by local architects in the effort to expedite actual start of work.

2. Expedient handling of claims of veterans of the World War at the bureau through the aid of Senators Harris and George and other governmental bureaus at Washington. It was pointed out that another $1,000,000 a year would be released and that the veterans and their families would be taken from charity and relief organizations if their claims received more prompt attention. The commission also urged that veterans not bring their families to Atlanta in filling their claims unless adequate means for their maintenance can be provided without calling on relief organizations.

3. A request to contractors and employers generally not to take advantage of unemployment to slash wage scales.

4. Report of allied agencies of the Atlanta Community Chest showing that 559 of the cases involving 858 persons had been cared for during the week beginning December 8 at a cost of $461.12 and an estimated cost of $5,000 monthly for relief work for January, February and March.

5. Reports showing that unemployment existing in 325 leading Atlanta firms has increased 11 per cent as compared with the same time last year, with a prospect of some additional unemployment, after the holiday rush season. It was estimated that in normal times there are 3,000 unemployed in Atlanta, and leaders stressed the fact that no outsiders may expect relief by coming into Atlanta at this time.

6. Expressions of thanks for the co-operation of businessmen in Atlanta in their efforts to minimize unemployment by keeping as many individuals at work as possible.

Frank H. Neely, chairman of the commission, declared that persons from out-of-town are continuing to pour into

Detective Hunts Man After Matching Coins

EVANSTON, Ill., Dec. 17.—(AP) Detective Edward Bussean learned about pennies from a young man he met in a restaurant today. He would like to learn more about the young man.

Bussean and the youth had eaten in the same booth. The youth, displaying a handful of pennies, laughingly remarked, "I got to matching pennies and look what I won. Ever match?"

The detective replied by digging up all his loose change and the contest started. The young man won with surprising regularity, making change for Bussean's larger coins and bills until the officer had only enough left to pay his check and pocket five pennies.

"Where's you get these?" asked the teller.

"Matching with a fellow. Why?"

"Nothing, except they're counterfeit."

NO GEORGIA EFFECT ON DRY RULING SEEN

Federal and state enforcement of prohibition will proceed here as usual unless Judge Samuel H. Sibley, of the northern Georgia district, rules in concurrence with the decision of Federal Judge William Clark, of New Jersey. The latter held the eighteenth amendment had been passed illegally.

United States Commissioner E. S. Griffith opined that the eighteenth amendment was passed like all the others and he thought the supreme court would uphold it. Attorney General George M. Naper reserved an opinion pending a study of the Clark decision.

CONSUL SAYS CUBA SAFE FOR TOURISTS

Though martial law has been established in Cuba, as a precautionary measure against communist uprisings, tourists from the United States may visit the country in perfect safety, it was announced Wednesday by Senator Angel Perez, Cuban consul in Atlanta. "I have received many calls from tourists who are planning to visit Cuba and I would like to take this means of reassuring them," the consul said.

New Trial Denied.

Gilbert Glaze and Willie Lee Cox, negroes, Wednesday were denied a new trial for the murder of J. B. McWhorter, street car operator, who was slain September 8. The two negroes were to have been executed last Friday. A supersedeas stayed the execution pending result of the appeal. A bill of exceptions will be filed, it was said.

Atlanta, this increasing the distress here, and again warned that the commission would not attempt to place any out-of-town transients in jobs but would confine its activities to Atlanta residents.

In adopting a form blank, which newspapers were asked to carry, the commission is attempting to urge home owners and other property owners to make repairs at once and to obtain labor for the jobs through the run into another; those who walked discovered for the first time just how unyielding and abrupt Atlanta's sidewalks can be when one makes a misstep on ice, and high school boys went in for fun in a big way—embedding bricks in snowbanks and hurling them at one another in high glee, while innocent bystanders dodged the best they could.

Officials of the Family Welfare Society reported that the greatest demand for coal of the present cold season was received from needy families during Wednesday. All such requests were filled wherever possible, it was said, but it was feared that numerous homes were fireless during the coldest day of the current period. There also were increased requests for clothing.

Although air mail and trolley schedules were hampered by the sudden flurry that blanketed this section Tuesday night, electric power and telephone service was not delayed, the precipitation being too light to interfere with either the transmission or telephone lines. Both sections of the southbound air mail suspended flights Wednesday, one plane staying overnight at Greensboro and the other at Spartanburg, while the mail plane from Chicago discontinued its flight at Murfreesboro, Tenn.

Few Trolley Delays.

Officials of the Georgia Power Company, anticipating trouble, had kept enough cars in operation all night Tuesday to clear the tracks, and aside from three instances of cars leaving the tracks because of frozen switches, and consequent delays due to the necessity of slower operation and congested downtown traffic, the company reported that no serious obstacles were met during the day. Wednesday night all routes were reported to be operating on normal schedules.

Oddly enough, Grady hospital Wednesday night reported fewer accidents than ordinarily is the case. No automobile accident cases attributable to the snow were on the roster of that institution, and the only direct "snow accidents" shown on the charts were those in which Ben Stevenson, Tech

The Crew Street school grounds were an arctic battlefield and an Eskimo playground combined Wednesday when the fourth grade started rolling snow ammunition, sculpturing snow men and generally enjoying the first heavy snowfall of the year. Photos by Troy Bennett, staff photographer.

when another student wrapped a large stone in snow and threw it for a snowball; and two minor cases where the legs of patients had been threatened with freezing. One of these, George Tiffin, 36, 133 Twelfth street, was reported out of danger Wednesday. Tiffin was taken to Grady early Wednesday morning when passersby found him, his legs too numb to support him, in the snow near Cain and Courtland streets. W. G. Cooper, Jr., of 1450 Hartford avenue, S. W., was treated for a frozen foot.

Snow-Balls Annoying.

Snow-balling antics of the younger and rowdier element caused some inconvenience Wednesday afternoon to those who were content merely to go about their own business. By that time the stuff had become soupy and blackish, but this did not deter the snow-buffers. One gang of them, at Pine street and Piedmont avenue—all wearing the insignia of a high school—engaged in a final bout just as a party of them were boarding a town-bound Pine-Cooper street car. Those entering the front door of the car were pelted with dirty, mushy blobs of snow, and two passengers—one woman and a man—were struck about the face and neck.

There was one fatality. Passengers on Ponce de Leon avenue cars early Wednesday morning were visibly moved by a mute drama at Piedmont and Ponce de Leon. On the sidewalk near a sloping lawn, its head huddled pitifully between its paws lay a large white dog of the shepherd type. It was gaunt and old, and its posture indicated it had frozen to death.

The heaviest effects of Jack Frost's southward drive were felt Wednesday in the mountainous sections of Tennessee, North Carolina and Virginia. Seven inches of snow at Johnson City, Tenn., suspended street car service and seriously interfered with other traffic. Roanoke, Va., was digging out from under 11 inches of snow, the heaviest fall since 1928. Snow forced closing of schools in Rutherford and Orange, N. C., because students were unable to reach the school houses.

The snow did not begin in Richmond, Va., until nearly noon Wednesday, but reports shortly afterward said it had reached "nearly blizzard" proportions. Charlotte, N. C., had 10 inches early in the day on an official report.

Kentucky was in the same case as Tennessee, with plenty of snow already in the eastern portion, less in the west, and a prospect of rain or more snow for Wednesday.

MAISON IN GRIP OF GOLD: ICE, SNOW BLANKET CITY

MAISON, Ga., Dec. 17.—(AP)—Macon was under a thin blanket of ice and snow today and the weather man indicated that the coating will not be removed during the next 24 hours. A low temperature of 29 degrees was recorded at 8 o'clock this morning. The forecast was for 26 to 29 degrees tomorrow morning.

Rain that fell last night turned to sleet at 1 o'clock this morning. Then a light covering of snow coated the ice. Trees and shrubbery were weighed down with ice during today, but not heavy enough to break limbs.

POINCARÉ WINNING BATTLE FOR LIFE

PARIS, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Frenchmen sighed in relief tonight when a doctors' bulletin informed the country that Raymond Poincaré was winning his battle against the serious illness which yesterday caused fears for his life.

It appeared certain that unless unexpected complications arose the immediate danger was over. The wartime president suffered a partial paralysis last night but today he took his usual luncheon, his pulse was good and there was no fever.

Into the little house on Rue Marbeau came the elect of France today, including Marshal Pétain, former President Millerand, and the Baron Gaiffier d'Hestroy, Belgian ambassador, who conveyed to Madame Poincaré King Albert's hopes for her husband's speedy recovery.

HOOVER PAYS HIGH TRIBUTE TO BOLIVAR

Praise Comes on South American Patriot's 100th Death Anniversary.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(AP)—President Hoover today paid tribute to the memory of Simon Bolivar, liberator of five South American republics, in a statement asserting "all the nations of the American continent owe him a debt of gratitude."

The statement was read by Secretary Stimson at ceremonies at the Pan-American Union in observance of the 100th anniversary of Bolivar's death. "The people of the United States join with me," President Hoover said, "in honoring the memory of the great liberator, Simon Bolivar. All the nations of the American continent owe him a debt of gratitude not only because of his military achievements, but also by reason of his prophetic political vision which enabled him to lay the foundations of Pan-Americanism as well as to foresee the important part which the nations of America are called upon to play in world affairs."

SEARCHERS HUNTING MAN LOST IN SWAMP

Ocmulgee Section Scoured for Frank Skelton, of Eastman.

EASTMAN, Ga., Dec. 17.—(P)—Hope of finding Frank Skelton, of Eastman, alive has been practically abandoned by searching parties who have been scouring the Ocmulgee swamps near Abbeville for him since he became lost Tuesday while on a hunting trip with H. M. O'Callaghan and Fred Wynn, also of Eastman.

The party of three left Jessup's Landing in a small boat, about 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, planning to shoot ducks on the river as far down as the Abbeville bridge, where a truck had been sent ahead to pick them up and bring them back to Eastman at the end of the day.

Some two miles above the Abbeville bridge O'Callaghan is said to have stood up in the boat to shoot at a wild turkey which flew overhead and the recoil of his gun threw him into the river. The boat was paddled to shore, pulling O'Callaghan to the bank, where a fire was started. About 8 o'clock Skelton decided that he would try to make the trip through the swamp to Abbeville, get his truck, and return for the remainder of the party, expressing confidence that he could make the trip all right. The other two decided to remain at the temporary camp. He has not been seen since.

O'Callaghan and Wynn, suffering from the wet and bitter cold of the swamp, finally made their way to the mill owned by Norman Statham, who carried them back to Eastman. When it was discovered that Skelton was still missing, Sheriff Rogers organized a searching party which returned to the scene of the hunt. The boat was found capsized just above Poor Robin spring.

People in the neighborhood reported that they had heard some one shouting in the swamp from early in the night until about 4 o'clock in the morning, after which the calling ceased.

While the search for Skelton is still in progress, there is little hope expressed that he will be found alive after the bitter cold of Tuesday night.

Christmas Trees To Net Profits, Says State Extension Forester

BY W. H. MOBLEY.
ATHENS, Ga., Dec. 17.—(P)—K. S. Trowbridge, extension forester of the Georgia State College of Agriculture, made a seasonal suggestion to Georgia farmers Wednesday. There is profit in a group of Christmas trees, he said.

Increasing difficulty in finding suitable trees in the woods, Trowbridge said, has resulted in cultivation of trees for the Christmas trade, and the point was tested out at the college. Holly, cedar and pine, the forester said, are the trees most used in this state, with holly and cedar the favorites. Plants of both may be gathered wild, he said.

At the college of agriculture cedars approximately a foot high were gathered and set out in rows, 5 feet apart. They are now 6 to 7 feet tall. Trowbridge said, well rounded and of ideal size for Christmas trees. The spacing provides 1,742 trees to the acre.

"At 50 to 75 cents each, which would be a low price," the forester said, "these trees would sell at $750 to $1,250. This would allow for a loss of 242 trees."

Garden Contest Profitable.
Reports from the Georgia health garden contest, says J. C. Morcock, Jr., extension vegetable gardening specialist of the state college of agriculture, indicate actual profit to the schools participating in the contest.

In many instances the value of the vegetables produced by the pupils exceeded the salary paid the teacher sponsoring the contest, and in one case almost equalled the combined salaries of all three teachers employed in the school.

Professor Morcock said a tabulation of the 282 reports received, giving results from eight schools in six counties and representing all four groups in the contest, shows a production of $6,650.14 worth of vegetables, an average of $25.31 per pupil.

At an average of $15 per garden, about $10 worth of vegetables, the 149 schools entered should have produced during spare time $800.00 worth of vegetables.

OPPOSITION TO PURVIS REAPPOINTMENT SEEN

Blossom Will Be Candidate for U. S. Marshal's Office in Macon.

MACON, Ga., Dec. 17.—(P)—The Macon Telegraph says opposition to the forthcoming reappointment of Samuel Purvis to the office of United States marshal in the middle district of Georgia, at the expiration of his present term next Monday, was indicated today in dispatches from Washington.

George L. Blossom, Macon certified public accountant and a leader in state republican ranks, has been named as the candidate of the opposing faction, according to the Telegraph. Mr. Blossom would not discuss the matter tonight, but did not deny that his name had been entered into the contest.

Mr. Purvis left Macon two days ago for Washington to carry a prisoner to the national training school for boys. He had not returned tonight, and it was said that he remained in the capital city in the interest of his reappointment.

Just what faction of the state republican organization is opposing Mr. Purvis is not known here, but it is known that the organization itself has been divided since the last presidential election. Mr. Purvis, a resident of Ocilla, has been in the office for four years.

Current reports, too, are to the effect that E. S. Clifton, former chief deputy marshal under Mr. Purvis, also is in the running for the post. Just what his strength is, however, could not be learned tonight.

Mr. Clifton resigned his position here several months ago, and P. P. Connell, connected with the office here since the administration of George B. McLeod, of the southern district, maintained headquarters here.

Republican officials here and in Atlanta have declined to discuss the contest, but it was learned that Mr. Blossom was among those considered for the place when Mr. Purvis was appointed four years ago. Mr. Blossom, however, told those interested in his appointment at that time that he would decline were it tendered to him. His attitude at this time is not known, since he has refused to comment.

4,037 Eggs Laid in Contest.
Pullets in the Georgia national egg laying contest laid a total of 4,037 eggs during the tenth week, a production of 46.1 per cent and an increase of 118 eggs over the previous week, it was announced today by Professor A. F. Gannon, director. The white leghorns of W. A. Seidel, San Antonio, Texas, took the week's honors with 64.8 points. The Carter-Cooper reds from Crawford, Ga., were second and the R. E. Boyce leghorns from Delaware third.

Peach Industry Outlook Good.
The outlook for the peach industry in the next year is generally favorable, according to G. H. Fitts, of the state college of agriculture. He said production greater than the light crop of 1929 and 1930 may be expected under favorable seasonal conditions, but the potential bearing capacity of the south is below the peak of 1928. He said considerable plantings seem justified in those sections where production and marketing conditions are advantageous. The condition of peach orchards, he said, is probably better this fall than at any time in the last five years.

NO CHARGE PREFERRED AGAINST W. J. CROOKS

COLUMBUS, Ga., Dec. 17.—W. J. Crooks, 28, formerly of New York, whose honeymoon with Margaret Wall, of Richmond, Ga., was interrupted by his arrest here several days ago, was released Tuesday afternoon. Chief of Police M. D. Gill said that Crooks was charged with carrying a concealed weapon in connection with a case, but that they had found no evidence to hold him.

Correcting a report that Mr. Crooks was apprehended on an automobile theft charge, Chief Gill stated that no charge whatever was preferred against him.

TENNESSEE ELECTION FIGURES ANNOUNCED

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 17.—(P)—Representative Cordell Hull, democrat, won the junior United States senatorship from Tennessee by a plurality of 35,431 over Paul E. Humes, republican, official figures of the November 4 election announced today showed. Hull received 154,131 votes, Humes 118,698, and Stephen Bell, communist candidate, 3,392.

Senator William E. Brock, democrat, won the short term senatorial race from F. Todd Monahan, republican, by 144,019 to 49,554.

In the governorship race Governor Henry H. Horton, democrat, was re-elected by a plurality of 67,743 over C. Arthur Bruce, republican. Horton received 153,341, Bruce 85,598, and Samuel Borenstein, communist, 1,296.

In the other statewide contest Harvey H. Hannan, democratic incumbent, was re-elected to the railroad and public commission over J. W. Stone, republican, by 136,333 to 96,047.

WEST BADEN SELECTED FOR GOVERNORS' PARLEY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(P)—West Baden, Ind., was today selected as the site for the 1931 governors' conference.

However, former Governor Hardee, of Florida, executive secretary of the conference, said the selection was tentative and subject to the approval of the governor of Indiana.

The governors said they discussed unemployment only informally and that there was likelihood of an emergency governors' conference later in the year to discuss business conditions.

ASK PROBE OF DEATH BY CARBON MONOXIDE

SHREVEPORT, La., Dec. 17.—(P)—A coroner's jury today asked that the grand jury investigate the death early this week of Miss Helen Knippers, 23-year-old waitress of Many, La., who died from carbon monoxide poisoning in a parked automobile.

The coroner's jury also recommended that a manslaughter charge be filed against P. E. Wells, member of the Sabine parish police jury and well-known merchant and planter, who was found in the car in a paralyzed condition and is now under treatment in a Shreveport hospital.

BIRTHDAY OBSERVED BY PRINCESS HERMINE

DOORN, Holland, Dec. 17.—(P)—The Princess Hermine, second wife of the former German kaiser, celebrated her 43d birthday today with only the close members of the family at the royal exile's castle.

Her two sons of her first marriage came from Lipsie to join their two sisters and their imperial stepfather in congratulating the princess.

BARRETT OPPOSES FILM CENSORSHIP

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Dec. 17.—(P)—Wilton A. Barrett, of the National Board of Review of Motion Pictures, would have no censorship of the cinema.

Censorship, he said here today, is not American in principle, nor scientific in theory.

Lamar Counties Urged To Preserve Holly Trees

BARNESVILLE, Ga., Dec. 17.—Mrs. J. M. Rogers, president of the Garden Club in Barnesville, has issued a request to the citizens of Lamar county to avoid cutting holly trees for holiday use. She suggests trimming the smaller branches, but leaving the trees in an effort to preserve the natural beauty of the forests.

Columbus Women Serve at Highway Barbecue

Three Columbus women who helped serve at the barbecue yesterday, which was part of the celebration of the opening of the Atlanta-Columbus highway, are shown above. They are (from left to right) Mrs. A. B. Ellenbee, Mrs. Lamar Rice, and Mrs. Wyckliffe Twining.

Escaped Prisoner Will Be Returned At Cost of $645

VALDOSTA, Ga., Dec. 17.—James Patrick Dee, a young white man held here as an escaped convict from the federal prison on McNeil's Island, Fort Lewis, Washington state, will be taken back to prison at a cost of approximately $645.

Dee was arrested here three weeks ago on a charge of vagrancy and took of his escape from the federal prison and his desire to go back. He passed through Valdosta several months ago on his way to Florida where he hoped to get work, but failed. While here on his way south he was arrested and fined. At that time he had money enough to pay the fine, after which he left the city, only to return last month.

Instructions were received yesterday by the United States marshals of the state to take Dee in custody and escort him to Fort Lewis.

Deputy United States Marshal Frank Stevens is arranging to take the trip to Washington state with Dee.

THOMASVILLE LOSES 1931 TOBACCO MART

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Dec. 17.—It appeared definitely settled that there will be no tobacco market in Thomasville next summer. The market conducted at the warehouse here has not been financially successful, and the stockholders of the big tobacco warehouse expect to devote the building to other purposes.

Planting of tobacco beds in this county will be considerably reduced, partly because of discontinuance of a market in Thomasville, and partly because of the low prices received by growers for their crops during the last season.

State Deaths And Funerals

MRS. HENRY HORTON.
BAINBRIDGE, Ga., Dec. 17.—Mrs. Henry Horton, 35, was buried in Pine Level cemetery after funeral services in the Pine Level Baptist church in Grady county, by the Rev. N. Shepherd, of Norman Park. Besides her husband, she is survived by a son, Alton Lee Shepherd, and five daughters, Anna Mae, Alice, Louise, Agnes and Dorothy.

FRANK M. HARPER.

SPARTA, Ga., Dec. 17.—Frank M. Harper, 60 years of age, one of the largest and owners in Hancock county, and a farmer and merchant of the western section of the county, succumbed to a stroke of paralysis Tuesday night. He was stricken Monday afternoon. Burial took place Wednesday afternoon in the family burying plot in the vicinity of the Harper home. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Wilkerson Harper, two sisters, Mrs. Harvey Archer and Mrs. Anne Harper, and a brother, J. H. Harper, all of Hancock county.

FUNERAL OF MRS. HARVEY.

BRUNSWICK, Ga., Dec. 17.—The funeral of Mrs. W. M. Harvey, of Hortense, who died Sunday at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. J. E. Lee, of 606 L. street, was held Tuesday afternoon at the Wesleyan Methodist church at Hortense, Rev. Frank B. Harris officiating.

She was 54 years old, and had spent practically all of her life at Hortense. She is survived by the following children: Mrs. Lee, Mrs. E. H. Carter, Mrs. J. R. Strickland, and the Rev. W. M. Harvey, J. E. Harvey, A. C. Harvey, J. W. Harvey, H. P. Harvey and Carlisle Harvey.

FUNERAL OF WILL KEEFE.

MARIETTA, Ga., Dec. 17.—Funeral services for Will Keefe, 46, of this city, who died Monday at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. J. E. Lee, of 606 L. street, was held Tuesday afternoon at the Wesleyan Methodist church at Hortense, Rev. Frank B. Harris officiating.

He was 54 years old, and had spent practically all of her life at Hortense. She is survived by the following children: Mrs. Lee, Mrs. E. H. Carter, Mrs. J. R. Strickland, and the Rev. W. M. Harvey, J. E. Harvey, A. C. Harvey, J. W. Harvey, H. P. Harvey and Carlisle Harvey.

FUNERAL OF JUDGE SYMMES.

BRUNSWICK, Ga., Dec. 17.—The funeral of Judge Courtland Symmes, for many years a leading lawyer in this section, was held Tuesday afternoon at the Rev. Royal K. Tucker, of St. Mark's Episcopal church.

The following members of the Brunswick bar were present: Judge C. B. Butts, Judge D. W. Kraus, Millard Reese, F. M. Scarlett, Joe R. Hunt, L. J. Bennett. Burial was in Palmetto cemetery.

McKinley Edwards III.

VALDOSTA, Ga., Dec. 17.—(P)—H. B. Edwards, Lowndes county representative, has been called to Bryson City, N. C., on account of the illness of his brother, McKinley Edwards, of that city.

Heads Athens Masons.

ATHENS, Ga., Dec. 17.—T. L. Elder was elected worshipful master of Mount Vernon lodge of Masons at the usual meeting here. Ralph Saye was elected senior warden; W. A. Capps, junior warden; Pope Holliday, treasurer and W. C. Thornton, secretary.

FARM CREDIT PLAN PUSHED IN LOWNDES

Committee Named To Select Officers Before Meeting
December 23.

VALDOSTA, Ga., Dec. 17.—Plans for permanent organization of the Lowndes county unit of the Agricultural Credit Corporation are progressing.

Subscribers to the capital stock authorized temporary Chairman Jesse Uimer to name a committee to select permanent officers and Mr. Uimer has chosen the following:

Dr. C. C. Giddens, vice president and general manager of J. N. Bray & Co.; R. Y. Scruggs, banker and merchant of Habersham; W. E. French, agricultural agent of the G. & F. railroad. In addition to these committees, Mr. Uimer named two advisory members, James Y. Blitch, president of the First National bank and of the Ashley Trust Company, and A. Fleming Winn, executive vice president of the Citizens & Southern National bank and president of the Merchants Trust Company.

The committee will canvass the county and select a president, vice president and members of the executive board.

The Federal Intermediate Credit bank, with which the corporation will do business, prescribes that no man must be chosen as an officer if he is engaged in the sale of fertilizer, farm machinery or any other business where there are direct dealings with farmers. On the other hand men must be selected who have business and executive ability and sound judgment regarding credits and values of farm products.

The committee on officers will make its selections and report to a meeting to be held on December 23, when an election will be held.

Fishing Limitation Proposed by Ware County Grand Jury

WAYCROSS, Ga., Dec. 17.—The limitation of fishing in Ware county to Tuesday and Saturday of each week throughout the year has been recommended by the Ware county grand jury.

It is likewise recommended that the legislature pass a law prohibiting the hunting of deer and turkey in Ware county for a period of five years. This five-year period will permit the county to be restocked with deer and turkey.

The legislature is asked also to make the open season for turkey, squirrel and quail from November 1 to February 1 and the open season for deer from November 1 to December 31. This will make all these open seasons open on the same date.

Another bill requested of the legislature is that hunting in Ware county be restricted to Tuesday and Saturday of each week in the open seasons, the same days as are recommended for fishing.

The same committee of the grand jury was composed of Robert Peggler, MacGregor Mayo, Jr., and J. Mac Jennings.

CORDELE WILL GET $100,000 ICE PLANT

CORDELE, Ga., Dec. 17.—Plans to establish an ice manufacturing plant and coal supply here, with a capital cost of $100,000, were revealed Wednesday.

The new plant will have capacity of 50 tons ice and will use from $10,000 to $12,000 worth of electricity annually. Engineers made a preliminary survey Wednesday and construction is expected to start soon.

George Ade in Georgia En Route to Winter Home

VALDOSTA, Ga., Dec. 17.—George Ade, who has become nationally famous through his fables in Slings, over which the nation has chuckled for more than 30 years, was a visitor in Valdosta Tuesday night on route to his winter home at Belleair, Fla.

When did she last hear from you? Don't write!.. Telephone...

Those who love you and who have you constantly in mind would like to see you. Next best they would like to hear your voice. Telephone them... wherever they may be.

Though many miles may separate you and pressing obligations make it difficult for you to write as frequently as you would like—still you can talk to them by telephone, and the cost is negligible.

You can talk a distance of 50 miles for as little as 40 cents; 100 miles, 60 cents; 150 miles, 80 cents; by using Day Station-to-Station service. During the evening and night periods the rates are lower than during the day on all Station-to-Station calls costing more than 35 cents.

Give your loved ones a pleasant surprise. They will be pleased to hear your voice and will appreciate the thoughtfulness that prompted your call.

... you cannot bequeath your judgment!

"As the year nears its close, it is fitting that we should take personal inventory... You, a responsible, successful business man; I, an officer of Georgia's oldest trust company.

"You and I cannot live forever. And we have wives and families for whom we must provide... I realize that you are 'comfortably fixed.' That's not the question. The question is: how will the monies, the securities that you leave be managed, or mismanaged?

"A well-meaning friend agrees to serve as your executor. Fine, so far as that goes. But he will not live indefinitely, either, and even if he did, would you be willing to risk your family's future on his sole judgment?

"There are many, many reasons why you should name a Trust Company to direct your affairs in the years to come. May I tell you what I have learned, through a long period of time, about the essential safeguards?"

Every Boy who wants a Coaster Wagon for Christmas can get this one

free
BUT HURRY

NOTE: In Atlanta and suburbs, where this coaster wagon is delivered to the winner at The Constitution office, only three new six-month subscriptions will be required. Outside of the city of Atlanta and suburbs the delivery will be made by express, charges collect, for only three subscriptions. Should four acceptable subscriptions, however, be secured, the coaster wagon will be sent express prepaid.

NOTE RULES FOR SUBSCRIPTIONS—
Each subscriber for the coaster wagon, must be new. A new subscriber is someone who is not now, and has not been, a subscriber, directly or indirectly, to the Daily and Sunday Constitution within 30 days prior to November 10, 1930. Do not waste time sending in the names of people who are already taking The Atlanta Constitution.

Stopping The Atlanta Constitution in a house for one family, or individual, and starting The Constitution right back for another family, or an individual, will not count. The switching of names or changing the address from the business address to the home address, or vice versa, will not count. Orders signed by minors will not be accepted. Orders signed by single men will not be accepted unless they are permanent residents of Atlanta and hold responsible positions. The Constitution reserves the right to finally accept or reject any subscription secured by any contestant.

Each order must be for a period of six months, and cannot and will not be cancelled during the life of the contract after once accepted. Orders received for less time than six months will not be accepted.

This offer is not open to employees of The Atlanta Constitution and immediate members of their families, to carriers or agents, or members of their families.

Are you going to be without a new coaster wagon this Christmas when this opportunity presented by The Atlanta Constitution makes it possible for any boy to own this wonderfully made "Greyhound" wagon without paying a nickel?

And what a wagon it is! Every boy who has seen it wants one. Big, and sturdy with huge, oversize rubber tires—built throughout of heavy, high-grade material that'll stand rough wear and last long. It's the kind of a wagon that would cost from $10 to $12 if it were possible to find, but it is an especial job, so to speak—built for The Atlanta Constitution—not to be sold—but to be given absolutely free to boys who secure three new six months subscriptions to The Daily and Sunday Constitution. The reward for such a small amount of effort is big and once you get started you'll be astounded at how easy it is to get the required subscriptions. No experience is required. Everybody knows The Atlanta Constitution and what it stands for, so with the help offered by our special instruction sheets mailed or given to you upon receipt of your enrollment coupon—you'll find your part easy. But get busy—don't wait longer. You still have plenty of time to get your wagon for Christmas. Clip your registration blank now — mail or bring it to The Atlanta Constitution.

MILITARY JUNTA RULES GUATEMALA

Government of President
Palma Falls After Successful Rebel Revolt.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(AP)—The Guatemalan legation announced tonight a military junta had been formed in the Central American republic and under the presidency of General Manuel Orellana was taking steps to restore Guatemala to constitutional government.

The statement followed reports from the American legation in Guatemala City that there had been street fighting in that capital yesterday. Later the Guatemalan legation received an official communication for the new provisional government confirming private advice received about the same time in New York that an armed revolt against President Bautista Palma had succeeded.

Guatemalan officials here explained that President Palma, whose regime was formally recognized by the United States yesterday, came into power as second presidential designate December 13. He was preceded in rank by General Mauro de Leon, minister of war and first presidential designate. Officials said Palma assumed power when President Chacon was forced by a cerebral hemorrhage, to vacate. Their advice said General de Leon was killed in the affray which put the military and liberal party into power.

Officials here awaited further information from Guatemala city before initiating conversations toward settlement of the new recognition problem. Dr. Adrian Recinos, the minister, said it was doubtful whether any move toward inviting United States recognition would be made until domestic problems attending the installation of the new government had been settled. State department officials were waiting word from the legation in Guatemala, before attempting to formulate an attitude.

Official communications received at the legation made no comment regarding the deposed president. However, it was said General Orellana was a popular military leader.

Embassy officials said it was conceivable that General Chacon might return to the presidency, although this was considered unlikely due to his illness. Officials also awaited word of the movements of Palma as an indication of whether General Orellana's junta would be contested.

AD CLUB FEATURES FUN PROGRAM TODAY

Big surprises, real thrills and plenty of laughs are billed for the Advertising Club luncheon to be held at 12:30 o'clock today in the civic room of the Ansley hotel, it is announced by Herbert Porter, president. The luncheon has been heralded as the biggest meeting of the year, and it is expected that the attendance record will be broken. Anyone interested in the advertising profession in any way is invited to attend. Entertainment fills the program entirely. Some clever, witty and novel features have been arranged for those in charge of the program, to be sprung as surprises.

Snow Blanket Adds to Beauty Of Lighted Trees

Reflections of colored lights in the snow Wednesday night added to the beauty of the lighted living trees. The white blanket came just as the majority of Atlanta's tree lighters were turning the current into their light strings for the holiday season.

Among those lighting trees this season are citizens of Kirkwood, who have illuminated a magnificent tree in Roscoe Brannan park.

Others lighting trees follow: Mrs. C. P. Girding, 775 Sherwood road; A. H. Wilson, 558 Church street; Decatur: Mrs. E. F. Atwood, 420 Ponce de Leon; Decatur: Mrs. Ralph Brown, 719 Avery; Decatur: Mrs. Dupree Jordan, Ponce de Leon place; Decatur: Mrs. Alvin Moore, 203 Avery; Decatur: the Rev. D. P. McGeechey, 218 Sylvan; Decatur: Mrs. G. B. Leonard, 2023 Avery; Decatur: Mrs. William Rang, 546 South Candler; Decatur: Mrs. L. W. Morris, 238 Wiltona drive; Decatur: Mrs. Sam Guy, 1680 North Decatur road; Mrs. Augustine Sams, 1557 North Decatur road; Mrs. Cone Bond, 1230 Clairmont avenue; Decatur: Miss Eula Hancock, 1231 Clairmont avenue; Decatur: Mrs. E. C. Ripley, 1235 Clairmont avenue; Decatur: Joel Marble, Line street; Stanley Hastings, 202 Clairmont; Decatur: the First Baptist Church of Decatur; and Mrs. H. G. Hastings, 308 Clairmont avenue, Decatur.

If you are planning to light a living tree, please call the Camp Fire Girls, Walnut 8738, or The Constitution, Walnut 6566.

MASONS PRESENT RING TO DR. SMALL

Presentation of a Scottish Rite ring to Dr. Sam W. Small, of The Constitution, was made by the Atlanta Masonic Club at its weekly meeting Wednesday as a tribute to the public service of Dr. Small, who recently was made a member of the club. Edgar Watkins, Sr., presented the ring on behalf of the club. The meeting marked the annual observance of the Masonic club's "Christmas party," with wives of the members attending as guests of honor. Vice President Dr. Claude Hughes presided with Allen Clapp, assisted by Julian Boehm, providing the principal entertainment, an impersonation of Professor Einstein.

Dr. H. Daugherty, superintendent of the Masonic home at Macon, who was a special guest of the occasion, outlined the work among girls and boys at the home and urged the Atlanta Masons to provide the initial cottage in the home's proposed cottage plan.

INSTALLMENT XXII.

"Of course, if you did fire both those shots, you'd have to say that he reached for the gun before the first one. Otherwise the self-defense would be all his. But if the shot through the window was fired by someone else, and started him into reaching for his gun—"

"I did fire both shots. I've already told you that."

"It isn't what you told me, it's what you're going to tell the jury that counts," Peter reminded her harshly.

"Well, that's what I'm going to tell the jury," Alene's gleaming, pointed fingers flicked up the cigarette holder, toyed with it for a moment, and carried it to her lips. It was a gesture of challenge, as if the translucent green tube had been a trumpet of battle.

"Dauntless the slug horn to his lips he set, and blew," Peter quoted softly, a whimsical smile of understanding widening his sensitive lips.

"Exactly so," Alene's eyes met his with a brief answering smile. "Mr. Piper, you gave me the credit for having brains, and warned me that I'd need them. The most dangerous thing in this situation for me is not that I'm going to be tried for murder. It's that I'm going to tell a lie, and stick to it. A lie is a desperately dangerous thing. It will be the thing to convict me, if the prosecution discovers that it's a lie, and makes the jury see it, too."

"With that lie against me, no one will believe anything else I say—one except Max. But if I deny the real motive that took me to Morrison's lodge that day, Max will believe me. I owe him that lie, and I'll stick to it, even if—"

Her voice faltered, through trembling lips. The gay cigarette holder rattled against the side of the ash tray as she flipped off a length of ash and pressed a fresh cigarette against the glowing stub.

"But if we could show that the drawer was open—" Peter persisted. "If I remembered, I'd tell you; but I honestly don't. And don't you see, the only safe thing for me to do, with that one lie, is to cling to the strict truth in everything else. It's going to be hard enough as it is. I don't dare add to the complications. And that's what lies are—complications. If you don't look out, one leads to another, and you get all tangled up in them. That would be nice for the prosecution—but not nice for me."

Again her eyes were lifted to Peter's with a smile, the smile of one who is desperately frightened and yet faces fear with courage.

"I don't know but you're right, at that," Peter admitted. He did not envy the lawyer his client. She would not submit docilely to coaching—yet there was sense in what she had said. "Then you don't know anything at all about any shots other than your own?" he asked, watching her keenly under cover of fumbling in his pocket for his sack of tobacco.

"I don't know anything at all about any other shots."

But for the second time Peter scarcely heard her. His fingers, reaching for the tobacco, had encountered the edge of the broken Chinese box.

"I found something else, besides Morrison's gun this morning," he said. "I found—this!" He pulled out the box and thrust it toward her. "Do you know where I found it?" he asked peremptorily.

"Yes. That is—was it behind 'The Brothers Karamazov'?"

Mrs. Everett leaned forward, and snatched the box from Peter's hand. Her cigarette had burned down to the edge of the holder, but she did not notice it.

Peter nodded.

"Yes, I found it behind the books—and it was behind the books that you hid your own pistol."

down at the shattered box. He strove to read their expression. Was it alarmed, dismayed, or merely puzzled? He could not decide.

"Yes," she said after a long pause. "I know what was in it."

She laid the box on the sheriff's desk with a long, tremulous sigh. But when she turned again to Peter, she was a woman transformed. There was a new alertness in her eyes, a new self-confidence in her manner.

"I'm going to live to thank God for you, Peter Piper," she said in a low, resonant voice. "It's hopeless for me to try to do anything, because I'm in jail. But you're free to go and try. And there's no one else to whom I can tell what I know, not even the lawyer. I shall tell him exactly what I tell the jury—because if you intend to play with the truth, the fewer people who know it the better. But you're different. I need your help." Her voice dropped as if her broken phrases had conveyed a complete and lucid explanation.

"But what was in the box?" Peter urged impatiently.

"I'll tell you—but not yet. I must have time to think—to think it all out as clearly as I can. I know what was in the box, but I am not the one who broke it open. Do you believe that?"

Peter remembered her gasp of amazement when she looked at the broken box in his hand. Was she surprised that the box was empty—or so surprised that he had found it?

He pondered the question a moment looking at her shrewdly. She withheld her gaze without flinching, and that look of one who spent and nearly exhausted, had suddenly gained renewed energy for some hidden warfare.

"For one who is determined to lie at the risk of her life, you're an odd, convincing person," he said at length.

"Thanks," she said almost casually. "I thought you would. It's for you to find out who broke open the box and replaced it behind the books. And when you find that out, you will know more than I. You will know the whole truth about Don Morrison."

Long after the name of Alene Everett was all but forgotten by the general public, it was quoted with familiar admiration in the shop talk of the legal profession.

The defendant, to be sure, was remembered only as a necessary prerequisite. What happened to Alene Everett was unimportant. It was as an example of brilliant defense against heavy odds that the Everett case achieved fame in California legal history.

The part played by Peter Piper of the Herald in shaping the course of that surprising drama was never mentioned. He held an even less important place in the recital than Alene Everett, for the reminiscent lawyers had never heard of him. Yet if it had not been for Peter, that classic defense would have become famous, and in all likelihood 12 men and women, modern descendants of the ancient fates, would have spun a different thread of life for Alene Everett.

Jake Carter no longer had time to sit with his feet on the veranda railing. His hotel was lined with city reporters, who demanded ice water at all hours, played poker noisily long after a reasonable bed time, and consumed unlimited quantities of ginger ale. Jake viewed with abysmal contempt anyone who diluted good whisky with any milder beverage. He disliked having his rest disturbed by the clicking of typewriters and the shouting through opened transoms of requests for cigarettes and correct initials.

He objected to the honking of automobile horns as press cars tore into the yard in the middle of the night, filled with reporters who had "filed their yarns" at the telegraph office 10 miles away and who seemed to think that the occasion called for loud celebration.

Peter alone remained in his good graces.

CANADIAN PARTY DROPS DRY PLANK

TORONTO, Ontario, Dec. 17.—(AP) The liberal party of Ontario voted in convention today to remove from its platform a plank favoring bone-dry prohibition of liquor sales. The plank has been part of the platform for more than a decade.

The conservative party, now in power, stands for government control and sale of liquor.

National Student Federation to be held here December 29 to January 2. Norman Thomas, socialist leader, has accepted an invitation to address the delegates by radio over a national net work on December 29. His subject will be "Worldwide Depression Demands Worldwide Co-Operation."

U. S. WORLD COURT ISSUE IS SHELVED

Senate Committee Puts Controversial Issue Off for Year.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(AP) The World Court issue was put on the shelf today by the senate foreign relations committee until the regular session of the next congress, a year hence.

Republicans for the committee sponsored the postponement. They expressed confidence tonight that President Hoover, who ignored this advice and asked for ratification at this session, would not call a special session of the senate in the spring for this purpose in view of their decision.

Senator Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, proposed the postponement with the plea that an attempt to dispose of the question now would hurt the cause and lead inevitably to the extra session, which the administration is seeking to avoid. He has not announced his position on the court.

The vote was ten to nine. Most republicans joined in supporting the motion. Democrats voted solidly against the postponement. Chairman Borah, an opponent, and Senator Gillett, an advocate of the court, joined in opposition.

Although one democrat, Senator Walsh, of Montana, was absent, Chairman Borah said he regarded the committee's decision as final.

There was no assurance from the White House that Mr. Hoover would not call a special session of the senate in the spring, but Senator Fessenden, of Ohio, one of the court advocates, said he believed the almost unanimous decision of the republicans on the committee, including proponents of the court, would incline Mr. Hoover against such a move.

The committee discussion of the Reed motion lasted little more than 10 minutes. It was agreed generally that there was no chance of getting the court to a final vote at this session, but Senator Borah and democratic proponents urged that it be reported for discussion should the opportunity afford.

Reed said it was "obvious and certain that the World Court would not be voted upon at this session even if reported in January."

In addition to the disaster to the World Court, which this would involve, he added, "there would be dragged down with the court half a dozen appropriation bills, and in a session of congress would be necessary. The country doesn't want a special session of congress or of the senate."

Reed's motion was carried by a vote of 10 to 9. This means immediate consideration of the court by the committee but does not require that a vote be taken then.

Senator Vandenberg, of Michigan, a republican member who is friendly to the World Court, said:

"I voted to save the World Court from a needless black eye through inevitable failure at this short session; and I voted to save this session from an inevitable legislative jam which would imperil emergency relief and annual appropriations and thus force an extra session of the new congress."

Senator Johnson, of California, ranking republican and a foe of the court, said:

"It is perfect nonsense to fool with the World Court during this session. It is worse than nonsense to have it interfere with the relief of our own people. There will be ample time to go into the controversies of Europe hereafter. Let's indulge in the necessary and refreshing occupation for a brief period of looking out for our own."

BODY OF LEDERLE TO ARRIVE TODAY

The body of Frank Lederle, 74, prominent electrical engineer and a resident of Atlanta for 50 years, who died early Wednesday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Cooper Myers, at Tampa, Fla., after a prolonged illness, will arrive here this morning for funeral services and interment. Arrangements will be announced by H. M. Patterson & Son.

A native of Boston, Mass., Mr. Lederle moved to Atlanta soon after his marriage and was for many years consulting engineering engineer for the Georgia Power Company. He was the last surviving charter member of the Unitarian church here.

Surviving are three other daughters, Miss Gertrude Lederle, of Ardmore, Pa.; Mrs. Frances Fisher, of Jackson, Tenn.; and Mrs. George W. Lane, of Maywood, N. J., and a brother, Robert Lederle, of Ardmore.

SCHWARTZ NAMED BY GEORGIA LODGE

William B. Schwartz was elected worshipful master of the annual communication of Georgia Lodge, No. 96, F. & A. M., it was announced Wednesday.

Other officers elected and installed were Claude R. Gaines, senior warden; Marion E. Lazenby, senior warden; Guy Thurman, treasurer;

POLICE CHIEF FINED ON LIQUOR CHARGE

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Dec. 17.—(AP) Chief of Police Ray M. Gault and 24 other persons, including three members of the Great Falls police force, today were fined for conspiring to violate federal liquor laws in the enforcement of a "nuisance" ordinance.

Witnesses at the trial, which today ended in conviction of the defendants, testified bootleggers were allowed to operate as long as they paid a $100 fine into the city treasury every two months.

Commenting on the convictions, Judge George M. Bourquin said he was confident there was no corrupt intent on the part of Gault. Montana has no state dry law.

PULASKI SMITH WINS BANKERS' SCHOLARSHIP

Pulaski Lethridge Smith, Emory senior, was nominated Wednesday to receive the $250 scholarship.

PULASKI LETHRIDGE SMITH.

will be awarded this year at the local university by the American Bankers' Association.

Emory is one of the colleges and universities selected by the A. B. A. for the scholarship awards. The conditions of the award specify that it shall go to an outstanding student in business administration who is preparing to enter the banking business or an allied field.

Smith was nominated for the scholarship by a committee which included Robert Strickland, vice president of the National Bank, and Dr. E. H. Johnson, dean of the Emory School of Business Administration.

A native of Statesboro, Ga., Smith has made an enviable record both in scholastic and extra-curricular activities at Emory. He is a former business manager of the Emory Wheel, student newspaper, and is president of the business administration student body. He is a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, national honorary leadership fraternity, and of the D. V. S., senior honor society.

SENATE COMMITTEE VOTE FAVORS M'NINCH

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(AP) After a new generation of North Carolina senators had disagreed over his fitness for the federal power commission, Frank R. McIninch, of North Carolina, today was given the approval of the senate interstate commerce committee to take with him into the forthcoming dispute in the senate over his confirmation.

The committee voted 10 to 5 for approval after listening to Senator-elect Bailey denounce and Senator Morrison defend McIninch. Morrison was fresh from the senate floor where he took the oath of office. He and Bailey, both democrats, will replace the late Senator Greenman and Senator Simmons, each of whom saw three decades of service.

The five votes against McIninch, who led the anti-Smith movement in North Carolina in 1928, were all cast by democrats.

Bailey protested that the nominee was not a democrat and was appointed by President Hoover to reward him for his support.

Morrison defended McIninch, though he said the nominee was a "sorry democrat."

Bailey not only challenged McIninch's democracy and President Hoover's moral right to appoint him as a democrat, but questioned his ability to contribute to his anti-Smith campaign fund were connected with power interests, and accused the nominee of violating North Carolina law by failing to report the contributors.

The senator-elect said McIninch had been supported by Hoover in 1928, but voted for a republican congressman this year. He charged McIninch with "breach of faith with his party" for failing to support his candidacy after participating in the primary under the "imposition" he would support the ticket.

Rum Trial Opens.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 17.—(AP) Seven of 12 Daytona Beach men, charged with conspiring to violate the prohibition laws, went on trial in federal court here today. Court was recessed until tomorrow, however, immediately after a jury had been selected and the indictment read.

OF COURSE you can do without it!

IT IS ONLY HUMAN for an advertiser occasionally to challenge the necessity of including THE SATURDAY EVENING POST in his schedule.

Sometimes he tells us about it, saying with a kind of defiant pride: "I guess my business can get along without your magazine."

Bless your heart, of course it can! But why should it want to!

YOUR business can get along with inefficient buildings and equipment.

Your business can get along with old ideas stifling new.

Your business can get along with poor location, inept production management, uninspired sales direction, tepid advertising.

Many do.

But the most progressive, most successful, most profitable businesses don't!

ADMITTING that you can do without THE SATURDAY EVENING POST—where is the gain in denying yourself its unique and tested advantages?

Where is the wisdom in sacrificing time, money, effect in attempting otherwise to reach those intelligent and substantial American homes that The Post does reach—that hub three-million-families-strong that turns the taste, thinking, buying of the nation?

The ablest advertisers settled all that long ago; they use The Post.

That is why this magazine stands head and shoulders above all others as carrier of advertising for the leaders of American business!

Yule Log Ceremony To Be Held At 'Pinebloom' Next Saturday

A festive occasion of much interest to Girl Scouts is the ceremony of the bringing in of the Yule log Saturday afternoon, December 20, at Pine Bloom, the home of Mrs. Preston Arkwright on Ponce de Leon avenue. At 3:30 o'clock Girl Scouts from every troop in the city will gather at Druid Hills Girl Scout center, 607 Seminole avenue.

Mrs. Frank D. Holland, commissioner of the Atlanta Girl Scout council, presents Miss Aldora Hudson with the Golden Eagle badge. This rank is the highest attainable in the Girl Scout organization, which requires a membership of four years and definite accomplishment of 21 merit badges. The Atlanta chapter of Golden Eagles with Miss Dorothy Kethley as president will receive Miss Hudson from Westleyan College for this occasion, into the chapter. Immediately following the presentation scouts will form into groups of eight to follow the trail of trees in search of the Yule log, a huge oaken log which is hidden at the end of the trail. The group which first locates the log drags it in to a kindled fire where it will be lighted with ceremony and carol singing. Mrs. John F. Heard and Miss Adelaide Nelson are the committee on refreshments.

Mr., Mrs. Pritchard Keep Open House Sunday, December 21

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pritchard will keep open house Sunday, December 21, from 4 until 9 o'clock, at their home, 1965 North Dakota road, in Druid Hills. Honor guests will include Mr. and Mrs. William S. Linderman, of Pittsburgh, Pa., parents of Mrs. Pritchard, and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Linderman, of Pittsburgh, Pa., sister and brother of Mrs. Pritchard, who will arrive Saturday to spend the Christmas holidays in Atlanta as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Pritchard.

Mr. and Mrs. Pritchard will be assisted in entertaining the guests by Mr. and Mrs. George Woodruff, of Birmingham, who will arrive this week-end to spend the Christmas holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde King, on Ponce de Leon avenue.

No invitations have been issued but 150 members of Atlanta society will call during the calling hours to meet these attractive Pennsylvania visitors.

Alfred H. Colquitt U.D.C. Plans Party

Alfred H. Colquitt chapter, U. D. C. will give the veterans at the Soldiers' Home a Christmas party Friday afternoon, December 19. Miss Sarah Henderson is chairman of the Soldiers' Home committee and a program of music will be rendered, and there will be refreshments for those attending the party, including chapter members, friends of the chapter and veterans of 1861-1865 living in Atlanta.

Mrs. Josephus Camp, president of the chapter, urges all veterans to be at the home promptly at 2 o'clock. Mesdames Durand and H. Smith, O. F. Taylor, G. W. Lunsford, O. Q. Mann and others will assist Miss Henderson in serving refreshments.

Informal Dance.

Mrs. Helen Dargan Lowndes and Mrs. Milton Dargan, Jr., will entertain at an informal dance Saturday evening, December 20, at the home of Mrs. Lowndes, in the Biltmore apartments, complimenting their young daughters, Miss Helen Lowndes and Miss Anne Dargan. Invited to meet the honor guests will be members of the younger set of society.

PARTIES PLANNED FOR CHRISTMAS BALL AT DRIVING CLUB

Debutante and College Belle Honored at Dinner Parties

A social function that is always anticipated with interest annually by members of fashionable society is the Christmas dinner-dance to be given Thursday evening, December 25, at the Piedmont Driving Club, where several hundred guests will dine and dance as a closing feature of the festivities scheduled for the day. The spacious club will be ablaze with lights and decorated with evergreens and wreaths and boughs of mistletoe and holly and a brilliantly lighted and tinsel-decorated Christmas tree will adorn one end of the ballroom. The color motif of green and red will be suggestive of the Yuletide and will be effectively used in the smaller detail of the decorations. Many congenial parties will be entertained, and among the largest will be the dinner party at which Dan Conklin will be host in compliment to Miss Mary Goddard, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John N. Goddard, one of this season's most popular debutantes, and invited to meet her are 50 members of the debutante and younger set and their escorts.

Bryan Grant, Jr., will be host at a party in compliment to Miss May Birney Alston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Alston, who returns Saturday from Gunston Hall, in Washington, D. C., to spend Christmas holidays in Atlanta. Covers will be placed for Miss Alston, Misses Harriet Grant, Louis Robert, Caroline Hammond, Laura Whitner, Flossie Hill, Colette Howell, Joyce Smith and the following young men: O. J. Sala, Phil McDuffie, Jr., Philip Alston, Jr., George Harris, Lewis Corrigan, Roy Collier, Allison Adams, Hugh Dorsey, Jr., Charles Stone, Jr., Clarence Williamson and Charlie Holcomb.

Congenial Party.

Forming a congenial party will be Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Meador, Mr. and Mrs. John Hill and Mr. and Mrs. James T. Williams. Mr. and Mrs. Perry Adair will entertain a party of 12 close friends.

Miss Howard's Guest.

Dr. and Mrs. Clinton Howard will entertain at a buffet supper on Sunday evening, January 4, at their home on Fourteenth street in compliment to their daughter, Miss Helen Alvis Howard, and her guest, Miss Betty Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Collins, of Nassau, Bahamas Islands. Miss Howard and Miss Collins arrive from Nassau Sunday, January 4, and will remain in Atlanta for a few days before leaving for Richmond, Va., where they will be the guests of Miss Margaret Valentine. Later these three belles will return to New York, where they are among the popular students at Finch school.

Informal "At Home."

Mr. and Mrs. Newell B. Whitcomb will be "at home" to their friends Christmas Eve, entertaining informally in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Curtis, of Spokane, Wash., who will be their guests during the holidays. A large number of friends of the hosts will call during the evening.

Seminary Juniors Win Basketball Championship

The accompanying photograph presents the Junior Class basketball team of Washington Seminary, who won the 1936 championship at this popular school, having defeated every class played in the tournament. Left to right are Misses Catherine Murray, Mary Thiesen, Carolyn Hoghead, Josephine Meador, captain of the team; Marion Smith and Louisa Robert. This group of young belles are popular members of Atlanta's sub-deb set and are favorites with their classmates at Washington Seminary. Photograph by Troy Bennett, staff photographer.

Mr. and Mrs. Puckett, of Ft. Gaines, To Celebrate 54th Anniversary

DECATUR, Ga., Dec. 17.—Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Puckett, of Fort Gaines, Ga., who will be the guests of their daughter, Mrs. T. M. Griffin in Decatur during the Christmas holidays, will celebrate their 54th wedding anniversary Friday, December 25, at a family dinner party at which Mr. and Mrs. Griffin will entertain. Mr. and Mrs. Puckett were born in Georgia and since their marriage in 1876 they have resided in Clay county. Their marriage took place in Randolph county in Benvenole, Ga., where the bride of 54 years ago resided with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. William Wesley Renfro. Mrs. Puckett was formerly Miss Mary Lou Renfro. Mr. Puckett's parents, the late Judge Robert M. Puckett and Mrs. Puckett were pioneers of old Hartford, Ga., now Hawkinsville, Ga. This beloved couple who will celebrate their 54th matrimonial milestone next week has a host of friends throughout Georgia who will extend congratulations to them on this date as well as their three children and 22 grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Puckett are the parents of W. R. Puckett, of Blakely, Ga.; C. H. Puckett, of Fort Gaines, Ga.; and Mrs. T. M. Griffin, of Decatur. Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Puckett and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Puckett and their children will be among those attending the dinner at which Mr. and Mrs. Griffin will entertain next Friday evening.

Parties Planned Honoring Debutantes

Miss Selden To Keep Open House Dec. 21

Parties galore continue to be announced for members of the winter's debutante coterie, each day of the holiday season to be marked by one or more events planned with these belles as central figures. Miss Ruth Hendrix has planned a tea for Sunday afternoon, December 21, at the home of her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. C. Hendrix, of Piedmont road, honoring a trio of the seasons debutantes, Miss Sarah Meador, Miss Hannah Sterne and Miss Sarah De Saussure. A group of friends will call between 4:30 and 6 o'clock.

Miss Mary Ann Carr and her guest, Miss Elizabeth Adams, of Pueblo, Col., a schoolmate of Miss Carr at the Spence school in New York city; Misses Betty Scott, May Birney Alston, Marion Calhoun and Betsy Weyman will be honor guests at the party given Sunday, December 21, by Caroline Selden at her home on Walker terrace.

Miss Selden will keep open house, the informal occasion assembling members of the sub-deb set of society to meet these charming young girls, who return this week from school to spend the holidays in Atlanta. Miss Scott and Miss Calhoun are attending Ogeeta, near Philadelphia, Pa.; Miss Alston goes to Gunston Hall, in Washington, D. C. and Miss Weyman is a student at Oldfield, near Baltimore, Maryland.

Mrs. Stevenson Given Birthday Party

Eva Allison Stevenson Chapter Children of the Confederacy, auxiliary of the Alfred H. Colquitt Chapter U. D. C., entertained recently at a party given at the Atlanta Woman's Club, honoring Mrs. D. F. Stevenson, for whom the chapter is named, on her birthday anniversary. Mrs. W. S. Coleman, honorary life president of Georgia Division U. D. C. and honorary director for Georgia of the Children of the Confederacy, presided at the party. Mrs. Stevenson, who was severely wounded in the War Between the States, and whose service during the duration of the war was an enviable one. Upon the loving cup was engraved: "The Eva Allison Stevenson Chapter Children of the Confederacy of the Alfred Colquitt Chapter U. D. C., organized June 8, 1899."

Miss Alice Baxter, honorary vice president general, was scheduled to make the presentation, but was prevented because of illness, and Mrs. Coleman graciously took her place.

Miss Willette Taylor, president of Eva Allison Chapter U. D. C., on behalf of her patriotic organization accepted the trophy from Mrs. Stevenson, who is the beloved sponsor of the chapter. Mrs. Josephus Camp, president of Alfred H. Colquitt U. D. C., presented Mrs. Stevenson with a silver flower container, a gift of Eva Allison Chapter U. D. C., and Mrs. O. I. Mann presented the honor guest with a basket filled with red and white carnations, significant of the colors of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, as a remembrance from the Alfred H. Colquitt U. D. C. A bouquet of flowers was presented Mrs. Stevenson from Mesdames Charles T. Phillips, Earl P. Scott, and J. B. Billups. Miss Willette Taylor read a tribute to Mrs. Stevenson enumerating her important activities in organization work, as written by Mrs. Murray Howard, of Atlanta. Many telegrams, letters and cards were received by the honor guest on this auspicious occasion, notably one from Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Trox Bankston, the latter being past president of the Georgia Division U. D. C. and a devoted friend of Mrs. Stevenson.

Tea was served by Mrs. D. F. Stevenson from a table overlaid with a Cluny lace cloth, which held as centerpiece a decorated birthday cake, surrounded by six silver candlesticks holding red tapers, tied with silver ribbon and red gauze, interspersed with bud vases containing roses and maidenhair fern. A single candle denoted the first anniversary of the Eva Allison Chapter Children of the Confederacy. Practically the membership of the Colquitt chapter was present, with the young people of the Children of the Confederacy. Among invited guests were Miss Alice Baxter, Mesdames W. S. Coleman, Charles T. Phillips, Earl P. Scott, J. B. Billups, Emma Garret Boyd Morris, J. B. F. Herreshoff, Thornton Fincher, D. R. Wilder, Miss Virginia Hardin, Mesdames Frank Mason, Charles Senny, wife of Major Senny, of Fort Leavenworth, and her mother, Mrs. Martha Towle Myatt, daughter of the late Daniel G. Fowle, governor of North Carolina.

A new kind of jewel in a new kind of setting

"The Medal of Honor"
Frigidaire

Here is the beautiful sterling silver medallion or "Medal of Honor" that's affixed to the cabinet of all gift Frigidaire, at no extra charge. Thus, to this aristocrat of Christmas gifts, we give the personal touch your jeweler achieves when he engraves a rare piece of jewelry.

This medallion may be engraved with the name of the fortunate one who gets the Frigidaire, or with both her name and yours.

Or, if you prefer, you can present the medallion alone (in a handsome velvet case) to your wife or mother on Christmas morning and let her select her own Frigidaire at her leisure, later on.

"The Medal of Honor" Frigidaire—Aristocrat of Christmas Gifts

Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their wives and their mothers. This year, let's give them something that shows how much we love them. Let's make it a gift they won't exchange the day after Christmas—or forget the day after New Year's.

Just consider a moment. The money you'd probably spend on the usual Christmas knick-knacks is plenty to put a Frigidaire in your home. And what a gift that is. A gift that lasts—a constant source of enjoyment—an ever-ready reminder of your thoughtfulness. What more could anyone hope to receive? What more can anyone give?

And don't forget—the "Medal of Honor" Frigidaire is a real de luxe creation. Here is a cabinet of lustrous Porcelain-on-steel, inside and out. Here is the famous "Cold Control" for high-speed freezing of desserts. Here is the new Hydrator that keeps vegetables crisp and garden-fresh for days. Here is the patented Quickcube Ice Tray that releases one or a dozen ice cubes at the touch of your finger.

Why not call at our Display Room and make your selection now—while we can still guarantee delivery in time for Christmas.

Mr. & Mrs. Matthews Keep Open House Christmas Afternoon

Mr. and Mrs. Watson Matthews will keep "open house" Christmas afternoon at their home on Fairview road, in Druid Hills, the affair to be one of the most interesting events planned by members of Atlanta society for the Christmas season.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthews will be "at home" to their friends on this occasion, following a custom originated the first year of their marriage, which was an event of interest taking place in New York three years ago. Mrs. Matthews was before her marriage Miss Telsie Pratt, a belle and beauty of Atlanta society. A large number of the young married contingent will call between the hours of 5 and 7 o'clock.

High School Dance.

Commercial High School Athletic Association entertains this evening at a large annual dance at the Shrine mosque, the proceeds to be applied to the needs of the athletic association. Guests not desiring admission will be provided with bridge tables in the lounge rooms, where they may play bridge or other games. Tickets are $1 a couple and may be secured by the students or purchased at the door.

Talented Commercial students, under the direction of F. M. Phillips, broadcast over Station WSB Tuesday afternoon from 5 to 5:30 o'clock. Selections by the school orchestra, songs by the Grenadiers, Paul Harris, Clarence Stubblebine, Dana Waters and John Black, and blues songs by several of the students comprise the program.

Mrs. S.B.C. Morgan Is Critically Ill

SAVANNAH, Ga., Dec. 17.—Mrs. S. B. C. Morgan, socially prominent and one of the most outstanding women in Georgia, is critically ill at Tel-fair hospital, where she has been since last July, suffering from the effects of a fall. Mrs. Morgan was born in Augusta and was formerly Miss Sarah Berrien Casey. She organized the first chapter of the Daughters of American Revolution in that city, known as Augusta chapter, D. A. R., and was its first regent. She is honorary president of the board of trustees of Tallulah Falls school of Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, and is founder and president of the State Association for Education of Georgia Mountaineers, devoting a greater part of her life to ward working against illiteracy. The highest tribute that can be paid by the Georgia Federation was bestowed upon Mrs. Morgan when she was made life director for service.

Among other high offices held by Mrs. Morgan was that of vice president general of D. A. R. She is a sister of Mrs. Peter W. Meldrim, of Savannah, and is related to other well-known Georgians. Her affiliation with club, patriotic and civic groups, her activities in cultural, social and religious circles in Savannah and the state as one of the leading women of the south. Her motto throughout her entire life has been that of service to ward others.

Pi Omicron Sorority.

Alpha chapter of Pi Omicron Sorority will entertain at a Christmas party this evening at 6:30 o'clock in the Poplar coffee shop, presenting a program of Christmas songs, a play, "Christmas and Roxane," which will precede distribution of the gifts. Those taking part will be Miss Ruth Danbury in the role of Cyra of De Berger, play, "Christmas and Roxane," which will precede distribution of the gifts. Miss Marianne McClelland, chairman, has appointed the following committee to act as hostess and to plan the social hour: Mesdames Katherine Massey, Mabel Murrell, Margaret Nix, Margaret Culler, Misses A. E. Mullins, Peggy Osborne, Margaret Richards and Mary Poole. This event marks the second Christmas celebration of the Alpha chapter, which is the charter member of Pi Omicron organized in Atlanta. Mrs. Richard W. Battle, program leader, requests each member to bring an inexpensive gift labeled with an original Christmas jingle.

Miss Phoebe Young Heads Juvenile Club

DECATUR, Ga., Dec. 17.—Juvenile section of the Dekalb Junior Music Club, of Decatur, was organized in the Junior High school auditorium last Saturday and Mrs. R. I. Rooks, music chairman for Decatur Woman's Club, sponsors of the music club, is counselor, and the following officers of the juvenile group were chosen: Phoebe Young, president; Martha Moore and Mary Winterberger, vice presidents; Helen Waterberger, recording secretary, and Evelyn Randall, federation secretary.

Membership in the Dekalb Junior Music Club is open to music lovers from early childhood through 21 years of age. The object of the club is to promote greater interest in music, and the nature and extent of its activities will be partially governed by the number and ages of its members. The club will have a library of records, and will be organized into sections which to choose, and provision will be made for all ages to receive full benefit of membership in this highly cultured organization. The dues are $2.50 per capita annually. Efforts will be made early in January to organize the older groups and the first meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. at the January meeting of the Woman's Club, in the club auditorium and a program of music, readings, stories, etc., will be presented by the charter members of the juvenile group. The time for entering the various contests to be held by the Georgia Federation of Music Clubs at its 1937 junior convention is growing very short and anyone interested should immediately secure information and start with the preparatory work. This may be obtained from Mrs. J. M. Lennard, fifth district director of the Georgia Federation of Music Clubs, or Mrs. R. I. Rooks, sponsor of the Dekalb Junior Music Club.

Mrs. J. M. Lennard, fifth district director of the Georgia Federation of Music Clubs, is attending to the contest of musicians of her district to the short time in which to prepare for the junior and young artists' contests to start with the preparatory work. This may be obtained from Mrs. J. M. Lennard, fifth district director of the Georgia Federation of Music Clubs, or Mrs. R. I. Rooks, sponsor of the Dekalb Junior Music Club.

Not only are the contests an inspiring feature of the work of the clubs, but the musical activities are unlimited and membership in the state and national federations carries the pleasant possibility of participation in nation-wide musical endeavors of importance with which nearly 5,000 organizations comprising the national federation are concerned. Application blanks may be procured by telephoning or writing the director named above, or communicating with Mrs. J. M. Lennard, president of the Georgia Federation of Music Clubs, in Tifton, Ga.

Paderewski Plays Here in February

Atlanta Music Club gave a constructive and inspirational program Wednesday morning in Wesley Memorial auditorium at the study course program, of which Mrs. Grace Lee Townsend is chairman. Mrs. Walter H. Bedard is president of the club. Mrs. Delores L. Hill, Georgia representative on the board of directors of the N. F. M. C., brought a message from the national federation and an account of the recent board meeting in New York. Mrs. Hill, as chairman of the talent committee, announced that the Music Club will bring Paderewski to Atlanta in concert in February.

Joseph Ragan, organist and master of the choristers at All Saints' Episcopal church, gave a stirring performance of Handel's mighty "Hallelujah Chorus" as an organ solo, revealing musicianship and technique that is exceptional. Rotoli Choral Club, Mrs. Grace Lee Townsend, director, sang Luther's "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God," and Palestrina's "Panis Angelicus" with religious fervor and sincere purity, blending in an ensemble that reflected credit to the director.

Dr. John L. Yost, pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, and chairman of the program, lectured to the club on the subject, "Choirs and Choral Music," founded on the book of Arthur Mee, outlining in educational and intellectual manner the development of choirs and choral music from the time of the early Hebrew and Greek forms down through the ages to the time of the reformation and its effect on church music, touching in conclusion on the church music of America and the present day. A lecture, compiled by a master mind that appreciates the beautiful and delivered by a dynamic personality, left the audience thinking on higher planes.

Miss Frances Woodberry sang Mendelssohn's "Hear My Prayer," with the exquisite background of the support of the Choral Club and Mr. Ragan at the organ. Here again Miss Woodberry fulfilled a well-deserved reputation as an artist, conveying the meaning of the text with emotional warmth and understanding with a voice that through its beauty of tone and quality literally absorbs the listeners.

Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. Pierson will be Mr. and Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Malcolm Turner, Mrs. Patrick Jones, Mrs. Wallace Daniel and Mrs. James H. Taylor, Jr.

Dance This Evening.

Fifth District Society of Dental and Nurses' Assistants will sponsor an informal dance this evening from 9 until 12 o'clock at the Atlanta Woman's Club.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

STUMPY IS UPSET.

By Thornton W. Burgess.

Whoever truly is in need Will find that Nature takes heed. —Jerry Muskrat.

While Stumpy, the three-legged young Muskrat was afraid of the snow because it made his presence known to his enemies, he enjoyed it, too, after a fashion. He liked to sit beside the open water, where he could dive in at the first hint of danger, and watch what went on about him. It was surprising how many people he saw. It wasn't that there were more about. No, that wasn't it. It was because against the white snow they were more readily seen. Blacky the Crow, Sammy Jay, Tommy Tit and Chickadee, and Slaty the Junco he saw nearly every day. Several times he saw Peter Rabbit long before Peter came near enough to speak. Twice he saw Reddy Fox at a distance. He was quite satisfied to see Reddy at a distance. And of course all these little people saw him.

"I don't see how anyone can hide when all the world is white. I mean I don't see how anyone can hope to keep from being seen unless hiding under or in something," said he. "Brown coats never were intended for a white world."

"True," replied Jerry Muskrat, "but there are people who have white coats, and a white coat just suits them. That reminds me, one of these is a fellow you had best watch out for."

"Who is he?" asked Stumpy. "Shadow the Weasel," replied Jerry. "He is a little fellow, but it would be just like him to attack you if he should discover that you have but three legs, and unless you could get him into the water I am afraid you would not best watch out for."

"I saw him once last summer, and he wasn't white; he was brown," said Stumpy. "He has changed his coat, or Mother Nature has changed it for him since then," said Jerry. "It was brown in the summer but it is white now. It is as white as this snow. The only thing about him not white is the tip of his tail. This is black. Watch out for him. He is dangerous any time of year, but more so now than any other time, because he is harder to see."

Stumpy promised that he would watch out and then promptly forgot all about Shadow the Weasel. You see Shadow was a rare visitor to the Smiling Pool and those living there seldom thought of him. He wasn't what might be called a regular enemy. The very next morning Stumpy climbed out on his favorite tussock and after a look all around to make sure that all was safe, began to make his toilet. He was combing his fur with the nails of his one front paw and thinking how peaceful and safe everything was when he saw a Mouse come out of a little hole in the snow, sit up to look about and start for another little hole beside a stalk of goldenrod. As the Mouse scurried along, making a pretty trail of fine footprints in the snow, he passed or started to pass what Stumpy had taken to be a little lump of snow. He had noticed it when he had first climbed out on the tussock.

Just as that Mouse was opposite that little lump it came to life. Yes, sir, it came to life with an abruptness that was startling to say the least. There was a squeak of fright from the Mouse and that was all. A slim, trim little person in a white coat had pounced on him with a fierceness dreadful to see. It was so sudden and so wholly unexpected that Stumpy was so startled he fell over backward into the Laughing Brook with a splash. When he ventured to put his head out of water for a look he was just in time to see a rapidly moving tiny black spot against the white snow. He guessed what it was. He guessed it was the black tip of a tail. "That must have been Shadow the Weasel," and he was sitting right there all the time," gasped Stumpy. (Copyright, 1936, for The Constitution.)

The next story: "Stumpy Has Another Fright."

Piano Recital.

Miss Hilda Roberts will present a group of her piano pupils in a Christmas recital Friday, December 19, at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hames, 1010 Drewry street, N. E. The program will include solos, duets and demonstrations by the rhythm orchestra. Four members of the Junior Music Club chorus will sing Christmas carols. Those taking part are: Margaret Hames, Mildred Hammack, Louise Hammack, Dorothy Harbort, Alice Soteropoulos, Dorothy Martin, Regina Hurwitz, Gladelle Hogg, Beauchamp Armstrong, John Soteropoulos, George Soteropoulos and Gerald Martin.

Meets January 28.

December meeting of the Business Women's Department of the Atlanta League of Women Voters has been postponed on account of the Christmas holidays, and will be held Wednesday, January 28.

Mrs. Giddings Heads Sheltering Arms

Mrs. Glenville Giddings is president of Sheltering Arms Association, succeeding Mrs. Walter Colquitt, and will be inducted into office at the January meeting held at Osgood Saunders Nursery on Baker street. Elected to serve with Mrs. Giddings were Mrs. Edgar Seely, vice president; Mrs. George Street, treasurer, and Mrs. R. C. De Saussure, secretary. Mrs. Giddings was vice president of the association and is a former chairman of the Cornelia Moore nursery.

Outstanding among the work accomplished during the term of office of Mrs. Colquitt was a new medical and dental clinic, which affords each child two examinations weekly at the Osgood Saunders nursery, and the opening last Monday of the Cornelia Moore nursery on Washington street, for which a home was remodeled to meet the requirements of the standard national day nurseries.

Osteopathic Auxiliary.

Osteopathic Women's Auxiliary met Tuesday at the Atlanta Tuberculosis headquarters on Forrest avenue. Miss Bessie Langhorne, executive secretary of the Atlanta Child's Home, was guest speaker, relating the work of the institution. The program included a reading by Miss Mary Randolph Kent "On Being Clinicked," and a talk by Mrs. Alexander Dahl on the origin of Christmas customs. Club members presented a number of comfort kits for distribution to needy persons to Miss Mary Dickinson, executive secretary of the Atlanta Tuberculosis Association.

Stribling Runs High as Alabama Team Takes Light Workout

STRIBLING OUSTS SHARKEY IN TITLE RACE

ALABAMA TEAM SHOWS SPIRIT IN PRACTICE

Tide Has One More Workout Before Entraining for Coast.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Dec. 17.—(AP)—Alabama's revamped varsity ran through a light practice in freezing weather today and prepared to top off training tomorrow for its New Year's Day game with Washington State at Pasadena.

The Crimson Tide will entrain Friday with an official party for the west coast, stopping only at Grand Canyon for a sightseeing trip. There will be no practice en route.

Coach Wade probably will send his team through signal drill Friday before boarding the train, and that will be the Tide's last practice before reaching the scene of the New Year's Day battle.

Freezing weather today hindered practice somewhat, but the men drilled with spirit and showed no ill effects from yesterday's tough scrimmage.

Wade shook up his varsity yesterday and started six former reserves against a second team on which played most of the regulars. John Tucker scored two touchdowns against the reserves.

Wade's strategy in revamping his varsity injected new life into the squad. Alabama is fortunate in having powerful reserve strength, and men who heretofore have been known as reserves are fighting hard to keep varsity positions assigned them.

In today's scrimmage the reserves, using Washington State plays, failed to gain against Wade's first team. Five reserves remained on varsity position. Sharkey was at center in place of Elbert Smith at end for Elmore and Tucker and Hugh Miller in backfield for Campbell and McWright. Blocking, tackling and kicking featured today's workout.

Greenleaf Holds On In Cue Crown Race

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Ralph Greenleaf remained in the running for the world's pocket billiards championship tonight as he overcame Onofre Lauri, of New York, 125 to 21, in 24 innings of his semi-final match.

Greenleaf, the defending champion, now can repeat last year's feat of tying Erwin Rudolph, of Chicago, and forcing a playoff for the title by winning tomorrow's final match.

The defeat dropped Lauri into a tie for third place with Frank Taberski, Schenectady, N. Y., veteran who defeated Pasquale Nattoli, of Lexington, 125 to 120, in this afternoon's match. Each won four games and lost three.

Centre Announces 1931 Grid Schedule

DANVILLE, Ky., Dec. 17.—(AP)—Centre College's 1931 football schedule, announced tonight, reveals that the Colonels play Boston College at Boston November 11 and return to Lexington to play Transylvania three days later.

The schedule:
October 3—Western Kentucky at Danville.
October 10—Wittenberg at Danville, Ohio.
October 16—Xavier at Cincinnati.
October 23—Washington University at St. Louis.
October 31—Morehead at Danville.
November 6—Miami at Danville.
November 13—Boston College at Boston.
November 20—Transylvania at Lexington.
November 27—Louisville at Louisville.
November 28—Chattanooga at Chattanooga.

Florida Court Meet Slated for Lakeland

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Dec. 17.—(AP)—The annual Big Ten conference basketball tournament, which will be staged in the Lakeland High school gymnasium, February 6 and 7, according to an announcement from President Fred Stewart at St. Petersburg, Hillsborough and Plant high schools of Tampa; Andrew Jackson and Robert E. Lee high schools of Jacksonville; Fort Myers, Orlando, Gainesville, Miami, West Palm Beach and Plant City will take part in the tournament, which was won last year by Robert E. Lee, of Jacksonville, who won the state title a week later.

"Thees Jeem" Beats Milo in Charity Go

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Jimmy Louder, heavyweight wrestler, defeated Milo Steinborn, the former strong man, in a charity match here tonight. Louder won the one-fall match in 49 minutes and seconds, using a croch hold strangle spin and body block. The show netted about $3,000 for charity.

Vance and Herb On Way to Game

Foes on December 6, Vance and Herb, Georgia Tech tackle, and Captain Herb Moffitt, of Georgia, are buddies today as they travel together to Los Angeles, Cal., where on December 27 they will play on an east-west team against a team of Notre Dame stars for charity.

The southern stars, selected some time ago by a committee, are taking the long journey by laps, in order to keep in the best physical condition for the game, which will be a forerunner to the Alabama-Washington State game New Year's Day.

By Ed Danforth

Chief activity in the boxing business just now is centered in the warfare waged in whispers by three or four big syndicates of promotion struggling for the honor of presenting Herr Mocks Schmeling, of Germany, heavyweight champion of the world, in a bout for his title.

It is silently agreed that the first time Herr Mocks climbs into the ring with his crown on his head he will get the baulk knocked off. Herr Mocks is, you might say, perishable goods. The non-refillable champion will be good for only one appearance. And that one will be farewell in character.

The promotion syndicates are (1) Madison Square Garden represented by William F. Carey; (2) the Chicago Stadium, represented by Nate Lewis and Sidney Strotz; (3) the Chicago Coliseum, represented by George Goetz; (4) Frank Bruen, representing himself since he pulled away from the Garden syndicate; and perhaps a few others hailing from the grapefruit belt.

There also is a suggestion of a tacit alliance between (3) the Coliseum millionaires and Jack Dempsey himself.

STRIBLING 3 TO 1.
Since two are required to make a fight (if any), naturally Herr Mocks must have an opponent. Three of the interests want Young Stribling as the challenger and party of the second part, for the obvious reason that he would draw a crowd.

Only the Garden folks want Jack Sharkey, their perennial pet. The others know Sharkey has no drawing power at the gate at all; the Garden should have found that out long ago.

The New York commission for some reason has named Sharkey as the man to fight Schmeling; this may be a ruse to smoke Stribling out.

CHICAGO SCORES.
Out of the gumshoeing came the heavy footfalls yesterday of Nate Lewis, won, on behalf of the Chicago Stadium outfit offered Herr Mocks $500,000 to fight Stribling in Soldier field.

Joe Jacobs, the twittering little man who once brought old Mike McTigue down to Columbus and left hurriedly twittering about ropes and tall pine trees, is the manager of the German champion. He is executing more fancy figures than an exhibition skater going from conference to conference.

Frank Bruen wants Stribling to fight in Florida this winter and would not be averse to luring Schmeling down there for the big shot.

Out of the trenches will come one contradictory report after another. No sane man can guess what will happen.

STRIBLING FIRM.
Pa Stribling is in New York, battling. While in Chicago he was approached by each one of the four interests for a fight; he refused to commit himself. His general proposition is: "We will fight for anyone who can produce Schmeling. If the N. B. A. gives us the title we will defend it against any challenger."

To say that he holds the answer to the next heavyweight championship fight is to say it all. However, if he gets out of that gang alive it will be something, whether he gets the Schmeling bout or not.

A guess as to what will happen: The Garden will use Jack Sharkey, the wornout ogre, as a club until the crucial moment. Then they will toss Sharkey over and offer Stribling more money to fight Schmeling for the title than Chicago can muster.

The outside chance is that Stribling and Sharkey will fight in Chicago—and for the Stadium and Nate Lewis.

BROTHER STUFF.
Alabama will run into an odd situation on the coast. No team ever sent there from this side of the Rockies encountered such a state of affairs.

The California press will hail Alabama as the probable, if not the certain, winner. They will greet the Tidesmen with open arms and with the usual extravagance of the region will extol them to the skies.

No use to try to explain the complicated psychology of this manifestation. It all goes back to a defeat handed U. S. C. by Washington State and the shock of seeing U. S. C. loom like a great eleven then die before their eyes on contact with Notre Dame.

Just how Alabama will react to this unusual reception is a problem. Unless the young men of Tuscaloosa are unusually level-headed it may upset them.

Scone Wins Second Victory at Jefferson

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Aded by a good start, P. O'Keefe's Scone scored her second victory of the meeting today over a good field of sprinters in the Burriside at Jefferson Park. Carrying 102 pounds, Scone stepped the six furlongs in 1:12.

Scone got away ahead and displayed too much speed in the first half mile for her only challenger, High Score. Scone finished a length and a half ahead of Bob Rogers, which closed fast to take second by the same margin over Taddywawa, the favorite. The winner paid $7.20.

Jockey D. Meade, who rode Scone to victory in the fourth race, scored a double by booting Black Alice home ahead in the third event. He also rode King Kelly to second place in the sixth race.

Boys' High Race Is Called Off
A blanket of snow on the course Wednesday afternoon again caused a postponement of the annual Boys' High cake race. It was the third time that the race has been postponed because of the weather.

Another attempt will be made to run the race soon after the Christmas holidays are over.

Brooklyn Toreador Leaves for Mexico
NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Natalia for the bull ring, Sidney Franklin, Brooklyn toreador, departed last night for Mexico City to resume the profession which made him famous.

NORTH-SOUTH CHARITY GAME DEFINITELY ON

Stump's Coaching Job Sure as Officials Disregard Weather.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—(AP)—The first big football game ever staged in New York as late as the last week in December is scheduled for Sunday, December 28, when all-star teams of college players representing the north and south will play for charity at Ebbets field.

Fearless in the face of weather bureau figures showing that it has sometimes been as cold as 8 degrees above zero here on December 28, representatives of the New York chapter of the Knights of Columbus today announced the game was definitely on. Efforts were being made, however, to take out insurance against unduly cold weather.

Bobby Dodd, lanky All-Southern quarterback from the University of Tennessee, will head the south's forces. It was stated. Others who participated in a reported assured are Hackman, Tennessee, and Betha, Florida, backs; Flayer, Tennessee; Boudener, Tulane, and Forester and Rose, Kentucky, all guards, and Holland, Tulane, end.

The northern players named so far are Hansen, Temple, French, Penn State; Antos, Boston College, and Karcis, Carnegie Tech, all backs; Flanagan, Carnegie, end; Obit, Syracuse, guard, and Foley and Wisniewski, of Fordham, tackle and guard, respectively, and Dornoff, a tackle from Marquette University, Milwaukee.

"STUMP" AND JACK.
"Stumpy" Thompson, former Georgia Tech star, is to organize and coach the southern team, and Jack McBride, Syracuse fullback of six years ago, will be charged with the northern stars. Thompson and McBride are backfield mates on the Brooklyn Dodgers, professional eleven.

"Cold weather insurance" is being sought from Lloyd's agency in London, but the dickering just now is at an impasse, with the management of the game holding out for payment if the mercury goes below 32, whereas Lloyd's wants the deadline fixed at 25 degrees. A compromise is likely.

Whatever the outcome and whatever the weather, the committee in charge gave assurance the game would take place and expressed the opinion it would be no colder than it was for the Army-Navy game here last Saturday when the mercury registered 39 degrees at game time.

Weather bureau records show that the normal mean temperature for December 28 in New York is 33 degrees, with a normal maximum of 39 and a normal minimum of 26. The warmest December 28 in history was 56 degrees in 1877 and the coldest was 8 degrees in 1872 and 1917.

On December 30, 1917, the mercury hit 13 degrees below zero, the all-time record for New York, but an optimistic commitment don't like to think of that.

Maryland Cards Ten Grid Games

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Dec. 17.—(AP)—The University of Maryland has clipped two games from its 1931 football schedule for December 28 in New York is 33 degrees, with a normal maximum of 39 and a normal minimum of 26. The warmest December 28 in history was 56 degrees in 1877 and the coldest was 8 degrees in 1872 and 1917.

On December 30, 1917, the mercury hit 13 degrees below zero, the all-time record for New York, but an optimistic commitment don't like to think of that.

NEW LEAGUE MEETS This Afternoon
Adoption of a constitution and by-laws and a basketball schedule for 1930-31 will feature a meeting at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon in Joe Bean's office at the Atlanta Athletic Club of the North Georgia Interscholastic conference.

The newly organized conference of 10 high school teams in and near Atlanta will hold its first official meeting this afternoon. It was formed Monday, December 8, and Joe Bean, of Marietta, was elected president of the conference.

All-Star Pro Team Names 3 Bears
CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—(AP)—The Chicago Bears, third place winners in the 1930 championship race, placed three players on the all-star National Professional Football League team as picked by the Chicago Times. The championship Green Bay Packers, the New York Giants, Chicago Cardinals and Frankford each placed two men.

The Times' all-star team: Ends, Dilweg, Green Bay, and Johnson, Chicago Bears.
Tackles, Slater, Chicago Cardinals, and W. Owen, New York.
Guard, Gilson, Frankford, and Michalek, Green Bay.
Center, Barrager, Frankford.
Quarterback, Friedman, New York.
Halfbacks, Grange and Nagurski, Chicago Bears.

Howard Announces 1931 Grid Schedule

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 17.—(AP)—Coach Eddie McWhorter, of Birmingham College, today announced an 11-game football schedule for 1931. Five of the contests are with members of the new Dixie conference and one other with a school which has been invited to enter that body.

The schedule:
September 12—Birmingham at Birmingham.
September 19—Alabama at Tuscaloosa.
October 6—Jackson, probably at Anniston.
October 13—Chattanooga at Chattanooga.
October 20—Marshall at Marshall, Tenn. (night).
October 27—Williamson at Jackson.
November 3—(tentative) Spring Hill at Nashville.
November 11—Southern College at Duthers.
November 18—Birmingham-Southern at Birmingham.

CAPTAIN CANFIELD.
RICHMOND, Ky., Dec. 17.—(AP)—Kenneth Canfield, Richmond fullback, was elected captain of the 1931 Eastern Kentucky Teachers' College football team tonight. He succeeds Alington Grace, guard. Eighteen varsity letters and 35 freshmen numerals were awarded.

PARKER BRYANT NAMED PETREL PILOT FOR 1931

Meyers Elected Alternate at Annual Banquet; 22 Letters Awarded.

By Roy White.
Parker Bryant, of Statesboro, Ga., end on the Oglethorpe football team, was elected to captain the 1931 eleven at the annual banquet Wednesday night in the school dining room. Kenneth (Dapper) Meyers, of Norcross, Ga., fullback on the 1930 eleven, was elected alternate captain. Both will be seniors.

Dr. Thornehill Jacobs, president of Oglethorpe University and one of the principal speakers on the program, announced that Oglethorpe will play four home games next year.

They will open with University of Chattanooga the last Saturday in September. Furman will be the Petrels' second home game opponent, on October 24. Wake Forest will be played on November 14, and Mercer, traditional Oglethorpe rival, will close the season in a Thanksgiving Day game.

Twenty-two letters and 22 numerals were awarded to members of the football squad along with 20 numerals to members of the freshman team. Hubert Holcomb, manager of the team, also was given a letter.

"O" SQUAD.
Those players who received their letters included Harold Adams, J. L. Church, Curley Fulton, Ernest Golden, Spud Kratz, Dave Therrell, Irwin Woodward and Captain Charlie McKlesack, all seniors; Frank Anderson, Sam Baker, Parker Bryant, George Gaillard, Paul Goldsmith, Dave Kenzie, Andy Morrow, Kenneth Meyers, John Patrick, John Putno, Al Raines, Clay Sperry, Ray Walker and Marion Whaley.

Members of the freshman team who received numerals included Donald Adair, Day Barrow, Jeff Bolden, Sid Flynt, Charles George, Al Goforth, Jack Harrison, Julian Herriot, Philip Hill-dreth, Thor Johnson, Bo Johnston, Luke Mose, Wayne Pickard, L. S. Shouse, Frank Welsh, Harry Wren, George Young, Mitchell Rogers, Joe Hardy and W. L. Curran.

Following an established Oglethorpe custom, senior members of the football team were called on and responded with brief talks. They were Adams, Church, Fulton, Golden, McKlesack, Therrell and Claude Herrian, who was injured early in the season and was forced to drop football.

OTHER SPEAKERS.
Other speakers on the program included Jack Kyles, Charles McLaughlin, Roy White, Jack Troy, Coaches Harry Robertson, Nutty Campbell and Hoke Bell, Athletic Director, Frank Anderson, Trainer H. Clements, Manager Hubert Holcomb and Professor Perez.

In his brief talk Dr. Jacobs spilled all rumors about that Harry Robertson will be lost to the team next year. He and the remainder of the coaching staff will be back next year, Dr. Jacobs stated.

Dr. Jacobs spoke of the prospects for next year and stated that negotiations are under way to give Oglethorpe one of its hardest football schedules. The remainder of the card will be announced as soon as details are completed.

Clemson To Play 18 Basket Games

CLEMSON COLLEGE, S. C., Dec. 17.—Clemson lists 18 contests of the 1931 basketball year. Twelve of these are with conference opponents. Eight contests will be played at Clemson.

Prices not only bettered Tuesday's close, but highs as well. No new developments or rumors are needed as somewhat bullish regarding corn, the official figures showing 13,600,000 bushels less corn produced this season than preliminary returns indicated. As to wheat, the report appeared bearish, the final estimate to explain Wednesday's market which was a long overdue development, being the first material advance which has enjoyed since November 19, that is, in almost a month.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—The market turned around Wednesday and bit some of the hands which have been feeding it stocks recently.

In years of pronounced bear markets there has been a marked tendency for sharp recoveries to occur during the latter part of December. We are rather expecting such a development in the present situation. Before actually playing for it, however, we should like to see our hopes confirmed by some definite technical indication on the part of the market itself.

Deadwood Emergency Employment Biloombs

Senate and House Sharply at Odds on President's Spending Power Over $116,000,000 Fund.

BY FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(AP)—A deadlock over the emergency $116,000,000 employment appropriation impending tonight as the senate stood firm on two of the amendments in controversy with the house and launched into a bitter partisan quarrel over another.

With enactment of the relief bills not in sight, senate leaders gave notice that an attempt would be made to keep the senate in session next week in the hope of completing work before Christmas.

Meanwhile, the senate determined to conduct a thorough inquiry into the reputation to summon the relief officers yesterday after President Hoover had informed the senate that he had no report from Cong. Woods to submit to the senate.

REPUBLICANS PUSH MOVE FOR $30,000,000 DROUTH BILL BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Confident of holding their position on the administration's drouth relief program, republicans today threw down the gauntlet to democrats in the house with a view to settling by ballots tomorrow their disagreement over the amount to be given and how it shall be used.

Striking suddenly after the house agriculture committee reaffirmed its stand for the $30 million program, barring loans for food, the republican leaders sidetracked legislation under consideration to give the measure right of way.

When the voting stage is reached tomorrow, the democrats plan to re-

The administration leaders expect, if the $30,000,000 bill is passed, to be able to iron out the differences between the two branches by increasing the amount to probably $45,000,000.

After Senator Watson, of Indiana, the republican leader, indorsed it.

Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, was the only one who took any controversy at the close of debate in demanding that the senate stand by its amendment to the $116,000,000 appropriation for the Federal Reserve Bank. President Hoover the right to use the funds as he saw necessary. He asserted that the senate had given the final accounting of the $100,000,000 European food relief fund which he administered in 1919.

House members have refused to agree to limit the freedom of action of the president. A vote by the senate is in sight.

Earlier today, Senators Black, of Alabama, and George, of Georgia, gave a stubborn contest, 42 to 39, to have the senate amend the food relief amendments making available more than $2,000,000 for road construction in their states and the states making the appropriations.

The house conferees had refused to accept these two amendments. The conferees will be called upon to vote on these propositions or to reand urging the senate to recede from its food provision.

These developments followed the declaration of Secretary Hyde before the house committee that the administration had not favored the larger monetary aid to the states.

Aswell, democrat, Louisiana, and Chairman McNary, of the senate agriculture committee, were present.

Aswell insisted Hyde had misled him into thinking the administration favored the larger sum with the food provision.

Hyde declared during the stormy session before the committee the administration was backing the recommendation of the senate food relief committee. He said the committee had not specified any definite amount and that he thought no mention of loans. He disclaimed knowledge of how much the Association of State Banks and Money Lenders wanted. Loans for food would constitute, he said, terminating the program of relief; not economic depression relief.

Hyde said the Red Cross was capable of taking care of the destitute farmers.

Chairman Jones, of the senate appropriations committee, made a de-

McKellar read the text of the act of the act passed in 1919 by congress appropriating $100,000,000 for the Emergency Food Relief bill which contained a provision requiring an itemized statement of requirements to be submitted to congress. He read the preliminary report given by Herbert Hoover and added:

"There never has been furnished to congress as required by that act any real report."

Hyde testified the drought affected only corn, hay and pasturage with no

He turned the senate measure a "disorderly parade" and said it would give us money to make loans on the thinness security with the implication that the bill was restricting the president's authority.

"Does the senator know of any?" countered McKellar.

"Why of course I don't," retorted

SECKATARY HAWKINS

A Bit of Advice

By Robert Frank Schulkers

STONER'S BOY HAD GONE TO SEE IF THE CLIFF PATH WAS CLEAR SO THAT HE AND HIS PAL, FRED, COULD TAKE UP THE BAMBOO BOX WHICH THEY HAD JUST UNLOADED FROM THEIR FLATBOAT—AS SOON AS HE LEFT I STEPPED FROM MY HIDING PLACE.

HELLO, FRED!

OH, HAWKINS! I'M GLAD YOU CAME! I WARN YOU NOT TO GO IN CLIFF CAVE AGAIN!

WHAT DANGER IS THERE NOW, THAT YOU SHOULD WARN ME AWAY FROM IT?

THERE—THAT'S THE DANGER—STONER IS GOING TO TURN IT LOOSE IN CLIFF CAVE.

WHAT IS IT? A POLL PARROT? LOOKS LIKE IT'S HANGING FROM THE TOP OF THE CAGE.

I DON'T KNOW WHAT IT IS—STONER SNEAKED IT OFF A STEAM-BOAT LAST NIGHT.

DON'T HAVE ANYTHING TO DO WITH THIS, FRED—CUT LOOSE FROM STONER'S GANG AND KEEP OUT OF TROUBLE!

BUT HE WOULD BEAT ME UP, SIR, IF I LEFT HIM. YOU DON'T KNOW STONER LIKE I DO!

Disorder Still Grips Spain As Troops Battle Rebels

Eleven Known Killed Wednesday in Sporadic Revolutionary Outbreaks.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. Bullets zipped over strike-ridden Spain yesterday, with 11 persons known to have been killed in the revolutionary agitation, that grips the country.

The government continued to issue optimistic communiques asserting that there was little trouble except in Alicante province. Madrid was indeed quiet, with heavy forces of soldiers on guard, but disorder flared in the four corners of the country.

At Torrelavega, in the northeast, one civil guard and two strikers were killed in a clash.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Characterizing Dr. Albert Einstein as a pacifist, Dr. A. D. Houghton, one of the organizers of the American Legion, has suggested action to prevent the visit to California of the famed German mathematician.

The suggestion offered before Los Angeles legionnaires last night brought forth mingled applause and expressions of disfavor, but no action.

The attack, Dr. Houghton said, was based upon expressions attributed to Dr. Einstein in a recent New York speech, who was quoted as urging men of military age to refuse to fight as a means of preventing war.

Dr. Houghton declared Dr. Einstein was a pacifist, traveling in the guise of a mathematician.

"Dr. Einstein's theory of relativity is one thing—and I don't think much of it—but his pacifism is another," the speaker said. "He is a propagandist against the best interests of the country."

The noted scientist is en route to Pasadena by way of the Panama canal for a visit with Robert A. Millikan and other famed American scientists in California.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Charges against former Judge Ben B. Lindsey, of Denver, growing out of his demand for a hearing during services in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine two Sundays ago, faded among the shadows of legal technicalities today.

Magistrate August Dreyer, upholding a demurrer of Arthur Garfield Hays that the original disorderly conduct complaint against his client was defective, ordered a new complaint drawn. He called several times for somebody to step forward and sign it.

Nobody did.

Then after rebuking Lindsey for everybody knew about, he slapped his hand upon the bench and announced: "This case is closed."

YULETIDE SERVICE AT N. A. P. S. TODAY North Avenue Presbyterian church will hold its annual Christmas service at 5 o'clock this afternoon at the North Avenue Presbyterian church.

The service will be featured by scriptural readings and special songs appropriate to the Christmas season, rendered by the church choir.

High grade girls, who have been longest at the school, will have the honor of lighting the tall white candles which form a part of the ritual, while they quote scriptural verses symbolic of Christmas.

The services will be brought to a close with a benediction pronounced by Dr. R. O. Flinn, pastor of the church.

THE POSTOFFICE LIKELY TO REMAIN The postoffice substation in the Peachtree arcade building probably will not be removed for the next year and a half, until completion of the proposed new building, it was intimated Wednesday in telegrams received from Senator Harris and Congressman Ranssbeck by the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce and the retail merchants' association, both of which, together with other business and civic organizations, have opposed its removal.

Architect and civic leaders interested in maintaining the arcade substation represented to postoffice officials that its closing at the present time would be contrary to President Hoover's announced policy of maintaining business as usual in the various branches of government, and that a favorable reply had been given by Arch Coleman, first assistant postmaster general.

Spanish Train Wreck Takes Eleven Lives MADRID, Dec. 17.—(UP)—The Asturias express train crashed into a station between Leon and Gijon today. Eleven persons were killed and about 18 injured. Three of the injured were reported dying.

The accident, which had no connection with the strike in the northern region, was due to failure of the express engineer to observe the signals. The engine and fireman of both trains were killed and all cars were greatly damaged. Officials said about 36 loads would be required to clear the tracks.

W. E. HOLBROOK. Rites for Wilson E. Holbrook, 30, of 1020 Wylie street, who died Tuesday night at his residence, 723 Woodward avenue, S. E., will be conducted at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the residence. Interment will be in Greenwood cemetery.

Disorder Still Grips Spain As Troops Battle Rebels

Eleven Known Killed Wednesday in Sporadic Revolutionary Outbreaks.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. Bullets zipped over strike-ridden Spain yesterday, with 11 persons known to have been killed in the revolutionary agitation, that grips the country.

The government continued to issue optimistic communiques asserting that there was little trouble except in Alicante province. Madrid was indeed quiet, with heavy forces of soldiers on guard, but disorder flared in the four corners of the country.

At Torrelavega, in the northeast, one civil guard and two strikers were killed in a clash.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Characterizing Dr. Albert Einstein as a pacifist, Dr. A. D. Houghton, one of the organizers of the American Legion, has suggested action to prevent the visit to California of the famed German mathematician.

The suggestion offered before Los Angeles legionnaires last night brought forth mingled applause and expressions of disfavor, but no action.

The attack, Dr. Houghton said, was based upon expressions attributed to Dr. Einstein in a recent New York speech, who was quoted as urging men of military age to refuse to fight as a means of preventing war.

Dr. Houghton declared Dr. Einstein was a pacifist, traveling in the guise of a mathematician.

"Dr. Einstein's theory of relativity is one thing—and I don't think much of it—but his pacifism is another," the speaker said. "He is a propagandist against the best interests of the country."

The noted scientist is en route to Pasadena by way of the Panama canal for a visit with Robert A. Millikan and other famed American scientists in California.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Charges against former Judge Ben B. Lindsey, of Denver, growing out of his demand for a hearing during services in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine two Sundays ago, faded among the shadows of legal technicalities today.

Magistrate August Dreyer, upholding a demurrer of Arthur Garfield Hays that the original disorderly conduct complaint against his client was defective, ordered a new complaint drawn. He called several times for somebody to step forward and sign it.

Nobody did.

Then after rebuking Lindsey for everybody knew about, he slapped his hand upon the bench and announced: "This case is closed."

YULETIDE SERVICE AT N. A. P. S. TODAY North Avenue Presbyterian church will hold its annual Christmas service at 5 o'clock this afternoon at the North Avenue Presbyterian church.

The service will be featured by scriptural readings and special songs appropriate to the Christmas season, rendered by the church choir.

High grade girls, who have been longest at the school, will have the honor of lighting the tall white candles which form a part of the ritual, while they quote scriptural verses symbolic of Christmas.

The services will be brought to a close with a benediction pronounced by Dr. R. O. Flinn, pastor of the church.

THE POSTOFFICE LIKELY TO REMAIN The postoffice substation in the Peachtree arcade building probably will not be removed for the next year and a half, until completion of the proposed new building, it was intimated Wednesday in telegrams received from Senator Harris and Congressman Ranssbeck by the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce and the retail merchants' association, both of which, together with other business and civic organizations, have opposed its removal.

Architect and civic leaders interested in maintaining the arcade substation represented to postoffice officials that its closing at the present time would be contrary to President Hoover's announced policy of maintaining business as usual in the various branches of government, and that a favorable reply had been given by Arch Coleman, first assistant postmaster general.
